PREFACE

Two hundred years ago on July 29, 1756 tragedy struck the family of William Baskins, when he was killed by the Indians on Duncan's Island at the mouth of the Juniata in Pennsylvania. His wife and two children were taken prisoners. William was one of three brothers who settled there about 1750. The name in Ireland was Baskin, but in this country it soon became Baskins, except for the southern branch. The writer's great-grandmother Priscilla Martin Bell was a great-granddaughter of William Baskins.

The writer has been gathering data on the Baskins for many years. He published three mimeographed sheets in 1934. He has attempted to list the children of all the Baskins born before 1800. An outline is given showing the various relationships. Help has been received from many sources. See under Acknowledgements. As much as possible modern township and county names are used. The islands where the Baskins first settled were in Paxton (now Reed) Twp., Lancaster (now Dauphin) Co. The west shore was Rye (now Penn) Twp., Cumberland (now Perry) Co.

This account attempts to give the history of one family in colonial and early America - a record of pioneers. In the Revolution the Baskins fought against King George. In 1861-1865 they were on both sides, with Baskins dying for the gray, and Baskins dying for the blue. Many national events have greatly influenced the lives of members of the Baskin(s) Family.

1. The Surname

The name BASKIN evidently had more than one origin. It first appears in England in 1642 when there is a marriage recorded June 27 of Jane Baskin and Edward Tayler, both of the parish of St. Dunstans in the East, London (Parish Register). On August 13, 1732 John, son of John and Susannah Baskin of Grays Inn Passage was baptised at St. George the Martyr, Queen Square, Holborn, London (Parish Register).

In Scotland the name BASKEN appears in Banffshire in 1653 where James Basken was collector. In 1675 Alexander Baskin and in 1679 John Baskin, both sons of James Baskin, of Ord, were apprentices in Edinburgh. Ord may have been in northern Banffshire. On March 8, 1722 in Edinburgh Jane Baskine married William Reid, tailor. The ending -kin is diminutive. The prefix Bas- often meant Red. Nisbet in his A System of Heraldry (1722) gives for Capt. Thomas Baskin of Ord, in the Lyon Register:

gules, a fesse vair
crest, a sword and stalk of wheat crossing each other saltier-ways, the last being depressed of the former motto, Armis & diligentia

In Ireland the name BASKYN appears in County Dublin in 1439 when John Baskyn owned 1/2 acre in Kilmainham. In 1449 his sons, John and James sold their interest to John Thundry. (Bellew Documents) Another origin of the name was in County Clare. One of the chiefs of ancient Thomond was O'Baskin of the territory of Corca Baiscind, now the barony of Moyarta, County Clare. The name also appears as O'Basken. (O'Hart: Irish Pedigrees) Emily Lawless in her poem Fontenoy 1745 speaks of Corca Bascinn in Clare. From Clare some of the family moved to County Donegal, according to Ronald S. Baskin, of Dublin, whose grandfather was from Co. Donegal. There are Baskins now living in Ardara, County Donegal. In 1810 there were Baskins in County Leitrim.

The name Basquin is found near Charleston, South Carolina in 1770; in Middlesex, England in 1796; and in Quebec and France today. There is likely some connection with the French Basques.

Tradition says that the John and William Baskin who settled in Penna. in the 1730s were born in northern Ireland. The William Baskin who settled in Yates Co., New York was born in Donegal, Ireland in 1776. The Calhouns who were associated with the Baskins in Penna., Virginia and South Carolina were from County Donegal. It is probable that John and William Baskin came to America from County Donegal. The spelling of the name has remained BASKIN in some branches and has become BASKINS in others. Today the name Baskin is also carried in Britain and America by members of another faith and origin.

The first record of William Baskin is in 1732 when his name appears on the tax list of East Nottingham Twp. Chester Co., Pa. John Baskin is listed 1735 and 1736. In 1735-6 John paid 1/3 and William paid 1/9 in taxes. Both names are gone in 1737. They no doubt moved to the Paxton region just opening. All indications are that William and John came from Ireland to Pennsylvania, William about 1731; John about 1734. Both were married. They likely landed at New Castle, Delaware. East Nottingham was about 15 miles to the west. Paxton was a center for the Scotch-Irish. Many settlers there, after a few years, moved southwest along the Blue Mountains to Augusta Co., Va.

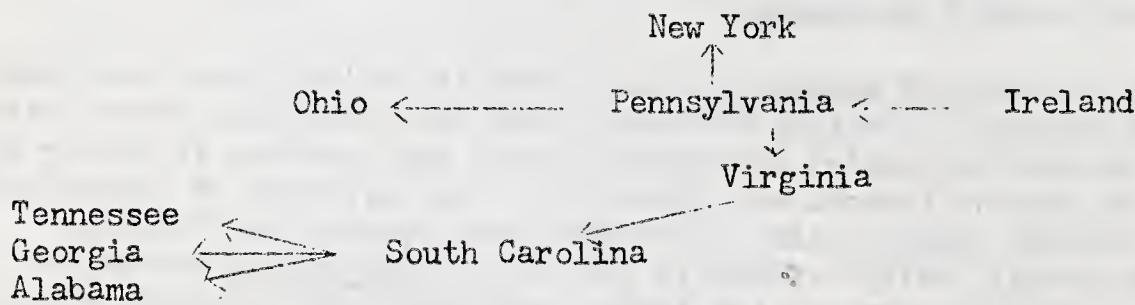

It is likely that William did this, for his name is in the Virginia records in 1740. The Pickens, Reid, and Calhoun families did the same. William may have gone because of his wife's people, the Stuarts, who lived in Virginia. Archibald Stuart went from Ireland to Pennsylvania 1727; 1738 to Augusta Co. As for John there is no further record. It is likely that he died about 1740 at Paxton. William, the younger, was at Paxton in 1744. He had brothers, James and Francis, and possibly Thomas. These were likely sons of John. William's oldest son was named John; John went to South Carolina from Pennsylvania.

A Robert Baskin died in Augusta County, Virginia 1750. His estate was administered by William. He was likely a brother of John and William and likely went directly to Virginia. He may have been the father of Andrew. Andrew's name appears on Augusta Co. records 1752 for the first; later in Kershaw Co., S.C. A Widow Baskin lived near Thomas Baskin in 1761.

"Not liking their Dutch neighbors," many of whom moved into Augusta Co., William Baskin and his six sons planned to move to South Carolina in the 1760s. Thomas died just about the time they were ready to go. John died soon after arrival. Charles returned to Virginia where his ties were stronger. This left William, Hugh and James in the Abbeville region of South Carolina.

Migrations

2. The Juniata Settlement

The Paxton region was purchased from the Indians and thrown open for settlement in 1736. This was the land south of the Blue Mountains. A flood of settlers, mostly Scotch-Irish moved in and rapidly took up claims for land. Many did not leave a permanent record for they pushed on southwest into the Cumberland and Shenandoah Valleys. Among the families to come were the Baskins. The first record is of William b c1722 who in 1744 joined a group from Paxton, including Francis Ellis and Thomas McKee, sent to investigate the murder of John Armstrong, an Indian trader near Mt. Union. William would not have gone had he been a recent immigrant from Ireland. It is likely that his father, probably John, moved to Paxton from Chester County about 1737. William was in the militia 1747-48 under Capt. Thomas McKee.

In 1749 the land east of the Susquehanna and north of the Blue Mountains was purchased from the Indians. Settlers moved in rapidly again. In the 1750 tax list for the Narrows of Paxton Twp., Lancaster (now Dauphin) Co. are listed James, William, and Francis Baskins. They were at the mouth of the Juniata, on or near the two large islands. Francis is listed as a trader. A possible fourth brother, Thomas, was younger and not married. A deed at Harrisburg (1839) recites:

"In the latter part of the year 1749 Joseph Thornton, Michael Paxton, George Clark and Francis Baskins settled and made improvements upon the island called the Big Island."

William Baskins settled on adjoining Duncan's Island, and James Baskins on the west shore.

In 1733 John Harris and in 1742 Thomas McKee had been Indian traders on Big Island. In 1745 David Brainard, a missionary, found Conoy Indians on Big Island. In June 1750 the white settlers on the west side of the Susquehanna were moved out by the provincial authorities. Yet in January 1767 James Baskins said that he had settled at the mouth of the Juniata 16 years before - likely the fall of 1750. When the Proprietaries had Big Island surveyed Nov. 13, 1760 it was known as "Baskins Island." On the southern tip was marked "Old Conoy Town."

In 1762 Marcus Hulings drew a map which showed the location of the three brothers. In 1754 the land north of the Blue Mountains and west of the Susquehanna was purchased from the Indians. At the same time the French expansion led to Washington's defeat at Fort Necessity. The defeat of Braddock in July 1755 loosened the floodgates and in a matter of weeks all had fled to Paxton, which was under attack by October.

3. Indian Wars

The provincial authorities were reluctant to do anything before this, but now troops were authorized and forts were planned. Fort Hunter was already defending the gap in the Blue Mountains through which the Susquehanna flowed. Another fort a few miles up the river was planned at Armstrong's (now Halifax, Pa.). On June 7, 1756 they began to fell timber for the fort, which was built where there was lots of pine. 200 logs, 30 feet long were squared. On July 1 there was an officer with 30 men at the fort, called Fort Halifax. William Baskins supplied 1660 feet of pine boards. The Province paid his estate £6-12-0 for them on April 15, 1757.

Evidently before William Baskins fled in October 1755 to Fort Hunter or Paxton he put in a crop of wheat. In July 1756 he returned to Duncan's Island to try to harvest it. Indians were rather active, having appeared to challenge Fort Granville (now Lewistown) on July 22. On Thursday, July 29, the Indians came down the river and killed William Baskins and took as prisoner his daughter, Margaret, age 7 and son, age 3. The next day Fort Granville was attacked and burned. Cumberland County and Paxton were panic stricken. On August 21 the inhabitants petitioned the authorities at Philadelphia for help.

Colonel Armstrong marched from Carlisle to Kittanning and defeated the Indians, relieving some of the pressure. It was not safe to return to the Juniata. It was necessary to run boats of supplies from Harris' to Fort Augusta (Sunbury). Among the "battoe men" were Thomas Baskins and Francis Ellis 1757-58, as well as other neighbors.

By the summer of 1761 a few settlers ventured back. By 1762 there were quite a number. Francis Baskins died the summer of 1761 probably before he could return. So James Baskins was the only brother left, although Francis' widow returned to the Big Island and William's widow remarried and lived nearby.

The outbreak of the Pontiac War in July 1763 once more drove all the settlers south of the Blue Mountains. Margaret (Peggy) Baskin is listed November 15, 1764 as one of "sixty prisoners surrendered by the Indians" and "taken by Captain Charles Lewis from the English Camp at the Forks of the Muskingum to Fort Pitt." Not until after Bouquet's invasion of Ohio in the fall of 1764 did the settlers try to return. Fewer seemed to return the second time, beginning in the spring of 1765. Francis Ellis married William Baskins' widow. The situation is summed up in David Ross' petition regarding Duncan's Island and in Marcus Hulings' letters.

Petition May 5, 1767

When David Ross Ren'd the Iland of the Widow Basquin's, ... all the Buildings and Fences was all Burnt, ye Place lying six or seven years & no Person Living on it, was as hard to Clear when Ross came on it as Ever it was. He hired hands & with his own Industry cleared Fifteen Acres, Fenced it & put Grain in ye Ground, and Builded a House on said place, and Before he Received and Benefit thereof the Indian Was Broke out, he was Forced to Fly, Loosing several of his creatures which he left Behind him. Two years he worked Day Labour to mintain his family.....

Needcesity doth not make Francis Ellis Distress this poor man in the Manner he is agoing to do, for he and his wife has two Large Farms of their own Besides the Iland Ross lives on.....

James Baskins by his location at the mouth of the Juniata had an excellent place for running a ferry. It is not known when he started it, but it is mentioned first in January 1767. In this year the children of William and Francis were living nearby. Two of James' daughters were married. The oldest, Catherine Stephens lived on the Big Island.

Accounts of William Baskins' Death

(A) The Pennsylvania Gazette -- Thursday, August 5, 1756

"We have Advice from Cumberland County, that on the 22d ult. about 60 Indians appeared before Fort Granville, and challenged the Commander of it to come out and fight them; but that he being but weak handed, did not think proper to accept of the Challenge; that they fired at, and wounded, one of the Men that belonged to the Fort in the Thigh, who happened to be a little Way from it, but not so badly but that he got safe in; that they lurked about the Place for some Time, expecting to catch some of our People, but they being upon their Guard, were disappointed; and that then they went off, after shooting down all the Cattle they could find.

"We hear further from the same Place, that on Thursday last twelve Indians (Part of those that were at Fort Granville) went to the Plantation of one Baskins, near Juniata, whom they murdered in a cruel Manner, burnt his House, and carried off his Wife and Children: That one Hugh Carroll and Family were made Prisoners about the same time by some Indians, who asked Carroll a great many Questions, particularly with respect to the Strength of Harris's, Hunter's and McKee's Forts; and said they would soon shew him a great Number of French and Indians, who, they told him, were coming down to fall upon this Province; but that he, notwithstanding they thought they had tied him very securely, made Shift to untie himself in the Night, and made his Escape."

This dates it as July 29, 1756.

(B) The first printed reference to the murder of William Baskins is in Gordon's History of Pennsylvania, 1824, (p. 619):

"The Indians were lurking around Fort Granville (Lewistown, Pa.) in the summer of 1756. Sixty of them appeared before the fort July 22. They challenged the commander to fight and wounded one man. The challenge was not accepted so they divided themselves into small parties, one of whom attacked the plantation of one Baskins, near Juniata, whom they murdered, burnt his house and carried off his wife and children."

Gordon copied this from the Pennsylvania Gazette.

Letters of administration in Cumberland County were issued to James Baskins in the estate of William Baskins in August or September 1756.

(C) The second printed account is in Rupp's History of Dauphin and other Cos., 1846 (p. 338). Mitchell Steever of Newport reported:

"At one time when Mr. William Baskins, granduncle to Cornelius and James Baskins, having a crop of grain on what is now called Duncan's Island (having however previous removed his family to Fort Hunter for security) returned with part of his family to cut the grain; and while engaged, all on a sudden they were startled by a yell or whooping of Indians, who were hard by; however, on discovering that they were neighbors, their alarms were quieted; but, alas! they were deceived; for the barbarous savages, as soon as near enough, gave them distinctly to understand that their object was their scalps! At this moment, they all fled in consternation, hotly pursued, towards the house, and when there, Mr. Baskins, in the act of getting his gun, was shot dead and scalped; his wife, a daughter of about seven, and a son three years old, were abducted."

"Mrs. Baskins effected her escape from the Indians somewhere near Carlisle; the daughter was taken to the Miami country, west of the Ohio, then an unbroken wilderness, where she was detained for more than six years, when in conformity to a treaty made with the Indians, she was delivered up, and returned. She was afterwards married to Mr. John Smith, whose son James is now residing in Newport, Perry County, and to whom I am indebted for this interesting tradition. The lad, that was taken at the same time, was carried to Canada, where he was raised by Sir William Johnson, not knowing the name of the boy, when he was baptised by a missionary, was named Timothy Murphy. He was afterwards discovered by Alexander Stephens, Mr. James Stephens' father, who resides in Juniata Township, Perry County, by some peculiar mark on his head. He has visited his friends in Perry. James Smith, his nephew, when at Canada in defence of his country, during the late war (1812), visited him and found him comfortably situated near Malden in Upper Canada (Ontario), and the owner of a large estate."

The inventory of the William Baskins estate lists "9 bushel wheat £1-13-9". The accounts mention "1660 ft of Pine Boards sold by the decd in his Life time for the Province use £6-12-0". (The Provincial Papers say that these were delivered at Fort Halifax.) The William Baskins estate lists "To cash paid Funeral Expences £0-6-4" (85 cents!)

(D) James Smith's daughter Isabella was born February 16, 1814. On January 29, 1898 she wrote from New Bloomfield: (to John P. Jones)

"Our grandmother was taken prisoner by the Indians, when seven years old, was 14 when they got her back. Her brother was five years old, him they never got. Their name was Baskins. Rachel Finley was her first husband's child. She was a half-sister to your mother and my father. Agnes was Mitchell's girls mother. Mary was your mother's name. Rachel died a maiden lady. After the parents died she spent her time among her half sisters and brothers. John Smith was the youngest brother, lived with his brother James, when he lived in Lewistown; learnt the chair making himself as his trade, died at Father's in Lewistown, is buried in the old Presbyterian graveyard in Lewistown.

"William Baskins that is a witness to the will is a brother (should be cousin) to our grandmother. Our grandparents are buried in Dick's Gap graveyard on the road leading to Clark's Ferry, an old Presbyterian church. When grandmother was taken prisoner they lived on what is now called Duncan's Island. Her father was killed by the Indians and scalped in his own wood yard and the two children taken prisoners. His wife jumped on a horse and swam the river and made her escape with one child on the horse before her."

This account is a little more plausible than the account which Steever got from her father. It is unlikely that Mrs. Baskins escaped near Carlisle, for the Indians likely followed the Juniata. Isabella's account says that the boy who was captured was five rather than three. The child who was not captured was Ann (Nancy) who later married Joseph Martin.

(E) Account given by William Baskins in Iowa in 1914 as heard from his grandfather George Baskins, a nephew of William d. 1756 (in error William thought it was George's father rather than uncle); William b 1826, George 1761-1852.

"When a small boy he and his brother who was almost a young man went early one morning into the woods to hunt for their horses. Their mother had been called to attend to a sick neighbor the night before and took the baby, a little girl, with her. The boys heard shots fired and crept to the edge of the clearing to see their father and the other children dragged out by Indians. All but one or two children were killed and these were carried away captive. Their house was burned. The boys hid in the brush and so escaped."

(F) Account by J. Harry Smith 1932:

Margaret Baskins Smith was held captive in Ohio for several years. The Indians liked her black hair.

4. The New Purchase

The influx of settlers into Pennsylvania put pressure on the authorities to make more land available. The New Purchase made available in 1769 land to the north, up the Susquehanna in what became Northumberland Co. in 1772.

In 1770 Alexander Stephens, Isaiah Jones, and some of the neighbors moved up to Turbot Twp. James Baskins in 1774 entered a claim here for some land. In the meantime, William's oldest son, John had gone to South Carolina, and two of Francis' daughters, Mary and Susannah, went to southwestern Pennsylvania about 1777.

The summer of 1778 brought new Indian attacks and many of the settlers fled south to the Juniata, including Stephens, Jones, and Cornelius Atkinson. After the Revolution some moved north again. This included Robert Baskin and his brother, Thomas. In 1784 Robert married Catharine McGinniss of White Deer Twp. In 1800 Thomas was likely in Turbot Twp.

The estate of William Baskins was not settled until 1770. The children named were John, Moses, Margaret and Ann. The youngest boy was given up for lost. The children of Francis from land records are William, Margaret and George - with Mary and Susannah as other possibilities. At the end of the Revolution all the children of William and Francis except John, Mary and Susannah were living nearby - as were all of James'.

5. The Revolution

The Revolution was fought in far away Quebec, Mass. and New York until July 1777 when the Indian attacks moved close and every able-bodied man was called into the militia.

In the first group who fought the British were:

1776 William Baskins, Gilbert McCoy and Thomas McCoy who marched under Capt. Robert Adams to Quebec, where Thomas was taken prisoner.
1777 Capt. Joseph Martin who died on a tour of duty.

In the second group who fought the Indians were:

1778 Capt. Thomas Clark: Mitchell Baskins
1778-79 Capt. James Clark: Isaiah Jones
1779 Capt. Gilbert McCoy: Mitchell Baskins, John Diven, John Smith
1780 Capt. Matthew McCoy: Mitchell Baskins, Cornelius Atkinson, Alexander Stephens
1781-82 Capt. John Buchanan: John Diven
 Lieut. Beatty: Mitchell Baskins, Cornelius Atkinson, John Smith, Alexander Stephens
1782 Capt. William Johnston: Henry Dougherty, Wm. Baskins, John Diven, Isaiah Jones

The second group protected the settlement against the Indian attacks. Troops were stationed mainly in Northumberland, Union, Centre, and Huntingdon Cos. Practically all the Baskins and the sons-in-law were in the Service.

The Grays served in Greene Co. as Indian scouts. David was in Capt. James Archer's militia company 1782. John Baskins, son of William, served in Washington Co., Tenn. In later militia are listed: 1786 William Baskins; 1793 Thomas Baskins, Mitchell Baskins.

6. Later Years

In 1786 Alexander Stephens left for Georgia. In 1788 James Baskins died -- his will naming four daughters and two sons, Mitchell and Francis, the latter an invalid. By 1790 the only Baskins left were Mitchell and William. George had gone to what is now Greene Co., Pa. Robert and Thomas were likely in Northumberland County.

In 1793-94 Capt. John Diven had a company of 32 riflemen in the Dauphin Co. militia, "who marched against the western insurgents from Dauphin County in the autumn of 1794." George Clark was lieutenant. Gilbert McCoy and Cornelius Atkinson were privates.

William Baskins and John Diven were dispossessed of their land on Baskins Island and moved to New York in 1802. This scattered the last of Francis' family. His widow had died about 1786. Only Margaret and Ann were left of William's family. Of James' Elizabeth McCoy, and Sarah Dougherty remained. The Jones' moved North; (first to Tioga Point, Pa.; then Lindley, N.Y.) In 1825 Jane Jones lived with her son, Wm. B. Jones, in Addison, New York.

In 1813 Andrew B. Stephens came North from Georgia to visit his relatives. Mitchell Baskins had died in 1809. He saw where Mitchell and James lay buried in the Baskinsville graveyard (now Duncannon). He mentions Cousin Hezekiah (or Hosiah) Martin, and Cousin Nehemiah Kilgore of Path Valley and a cousin, James Kilgore. These could possibly be children of Baskins' women, who were sisters of James, William, Francis. Andrew B. wrote home in April; in June he witnessed some Garrett deeds for his brother James.

In 1808 Robert Baskin moved from Northumberland Co. to Buffalo Twp. a few miles above the Big Island. In his will 1813 he speaks of his "dear brother Thomas" of Northumberland Co. Robert is buried west of New Buffalo at Hill Church.

Robert had three sons who lived nearby: John, Oliver, Robert. Two of Mitchell's sons married and lived near: James, Cornelius. The ferry was run for many years by James Sr., then Mitchell, and Cornelius.

In the latter part of the 1770s a large westward movement carried many from central and eastern Pennsylvania over the mountains into southwestern Penna. - now Fayette, Greene and Washington Cos. This was organized in 1781 as Washington; 1785 as Fayette; 1796 as Greene. To the region now known as Richhill Twp., Greene Co. went Mary and Susannah, daughters of Francis Baskins with their husbands, David and Matthew Gray. This was before 1779. Where they settled is now known as Graysville. In 1780 they fled to Fort Jackson during an Indian uprising. While here Matthew ventured to return to his farm, but was ambushed and killed by Indians on March 9, 1781. David Gray served under Capt. James Archer in 1782.

About 1790 George Baskins moved from the Big (Baskins) Island at the mouth of the Juniata to Richhill Twp., joining his sisters. About 1795 he married Rachel, daughter of Francis Braddock. About the same time some of the Atkinsons and Stephens came west. James, Charles, and William Atkinson were sons of the pioneer Cornelius. Charles had married Elizabeth, daughter of Andrew Stephen (Rye Twp. 1766-88), a cousin of Alexander Stephens who married Catherine Baskins, daughter of James. Andrew Stephen and family came over the mountains. He had at least four sons, Alexander, Andrew, Elijah, and John. Andrew Sr. died in 1798. Cornelius Atkinson Sr. and Alexander Stephens were associated in many endeavors from 1756 until Stephens went to Georgia in 1786. Margaret Atkinson, daughter of Cornelius, married Mitchell Baskins, son of James.

In the 1794 Washington Co. militia James Seal was captain of a company which was in service for nine months. James Atkinson was a sergeant; so was John Brown. Among the privates were: Alexander Stephen, Charles Atkinson, William Jackson, Henry Jackson, James Jackson, James Brown, Andrew Stephen. James Atkinson married Mary Brown; William Atkinson married Mary McCoy, daughter of Thomas and Elizabeth Baskins McCoy. The Atkinsons and Stephens about 1799 moved a few miles west to Monroe Co., Ohio. About 1824 George Baskins went to Morrow Co., Ohio.

George Baskins, his four sons and his son-in-law James Kerr settled in North Bloomfield Twp., Morrow Co., Ohio in 1824. In this same township lived the grandfather and father of Warren G. Harding. Here he was born in 1865. George and wife Rachel are buried at Ebenezer Methodist Church, $4\frac{1}{2}$ miles south of Galion; but the sons moved on to Iowa.

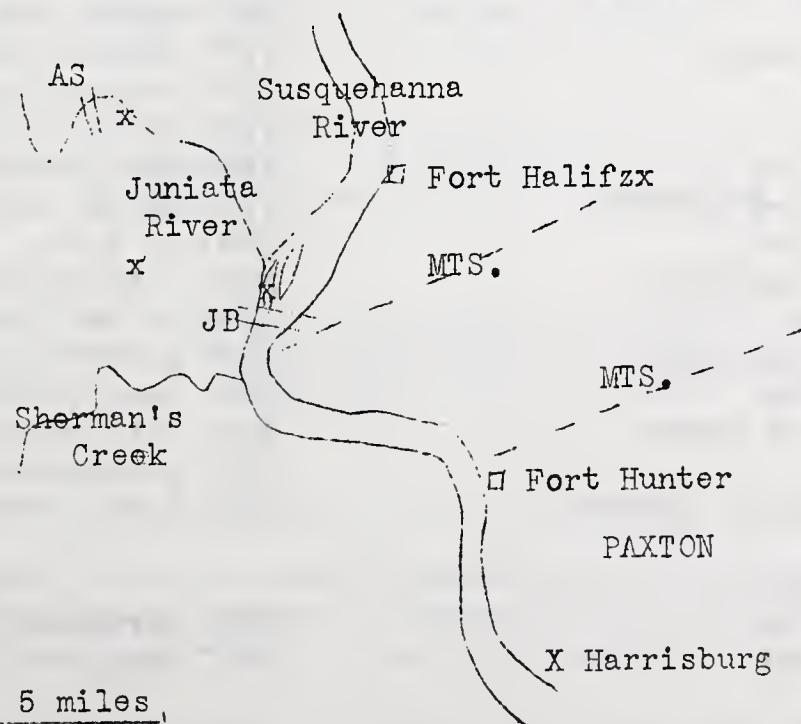

About 1815 Thomas Baskin and family moved from Northumberland Co. to Madison Twp., Highland Co., Ohio. Just to the east in Buckskin Twp., Ross Co., was John Baskin, surely a brother.

In 1802 William Baskins and John Diven moved north from Baskins Island to Seneca Lake, New York, settling at the head at what is now Watkins Glen. Baskins lies in an unmarked grave a mile west of the town on a hill overlooking the lake.

By what was likely coincidence in 1804 a few miles to the north near Starkey, Yates Co. located William Baskin, likely a distant relative. This William Baskin was born in Donegal, Ireland, in 1776; said to have been of Scotch parentage. His mother, named Scott, died about 1780 and his father remarried. William about 1790 came to New Jersey, where in 1802 in Sussex Co. he married Elizabeth Rapilee (Rapalje). In 1804 he settled at Friends Gore, in the town of Starkey, Yates Co. His brothers, possibly James, Robert and John, came to America. He had brothers in Georgia and Alabama, sisters in Philadelphia and South Carolina.

The Baskins pioneered in many states: 1730 Pennsylvania, 1740 Virginia, 1760 South Carolina, 1780 Tennessee, 1800 New York, 1820 Ohio, 1850 Iowa, as well as Georgia, Alabama, and Mississippi after 1800. There are Baskin(s) Creeks in Kershaw and Abbeville Cos., South Carolina, at Gatlinburg, Tenn., and in Bremer Co., Iowa.

a. James Baskins.

Of the three brothers James is best known. He was married about 1743. In 1750 he was on the tax list for the Narrows of Paxton. In February 1767 he stated that he had been living for 16 years at the mouth of the Juniata. This indicates his settlement in the fall of 1750.

In 1756 he administered William's estate; in 1761 Francis'. He is listed on the 1762 Hulings map. December 16, 1766 he bought 100 acres of land opposite Duncan's Island from John Reed. He received an order for 300 acres back of the Reed tract in October 28, 1766. It was surveyed as 177 acres. He had a ferry running in January, 1767 when a petition was presented to Cumberland Co. court for a road from Baskins' ferry on Susquehanna to Andrew Stephen's ferry on Juniata, via Frederick Watts' narrows. He had probably established it about 1766 when the lands up the Juniata were opened for permanent settlement.

James appears on the tax lists 1763-1788. The New Purchase of 1768 opened land in Northumberland Co. In 1774 James applied for land on the north side of the Chillisquaque Middle West Branch in what is now Turbot Twp. The Revolution probably discouraged him from settling on it.

His will was written January 30, 1788 and probated February 11. Executors were Frederick Watts, David Watts, Mitchell Baskins. Witnesses were Patrick Martin, Cornelius Atkinson, Jr., David Watts. The will mentions daughters Elizabeth McCoy, Catherine Stephens, Sarah Dougherty, Jane Jones; wife, Elizabeth; sons, Mitchell, Francis. Mitchell received most of the estate "subject to the maintenance of son Francis for life." Francis appears to have died after 1800. He must have been a dependent. June 26, 1792 Samuel Goudy was administrator of the estate of Elizabeth, widow of James.

The inventory of James Baskins estate shows that he was fairly well-to-do. His stock numbered 44. In his kitchen he had 7 queensware plates. He had an indentured servant and an apprentice. There was a ferrying flat and a canoe.

The land soon disappeared. The sheriff sold it. The little settlement where James lived became known as Baskinsville. On the bluff above was a cemetery. When James' grandson, Andrew B. Stephens visited Mitchell's widow in 1813 he wrote to his sister:

"I saw Aunt Baskins, uncle Mitchell's widow and family, who are living about two miles from grandfathers old Ferry. (She) pointed to the place where he (Mitchell) slept alongside his father."

b. Mitchell Baskins (son of James)

His tombstone in Baskinsville Cemetery (Duncannon, Pa.) reads "Mitchel Baskins died April 10, 1809 Aged 54 years, 6 months 4 days." His wife's says "Margaret Baskins died Dec. 9, 1814 Aged 45 years 5 months 4 days."

Mitchell served in the Revolution 1778-82. Soon after the death of his father he married Margaret, likely a daughter of Cornelius Atkinson, a neighbor. Their oldest son James was born November 9, 1789. In the 1790 census there are 2 males over 16 (Mitchell & Francis), 1 male under 16 and 1 female. In 1804 Mitchell Baskins helped found the Presbyterian church.

Most of the land was sold by the sheriff. The land was taken by Frederick and David Watts. In 1793 Mitchell was in the militia. In 1800 he had 4 sons and a daughter. The only Baskins who remained around the Islands were Mitchell and Robert. Mitchell had 3 married sons: James 1789-1843, Cornelius 1795-1871, John J. 1797-1848, Robert had 3: John 1785-1826, Oliver 1795-1860, Robert 1797-1831.

c. William Baskins

William first appears April 19, 1744 on the list of men who searched for and investigated the murder of John Armstrong, Indian trader. He was then and likely had been for some time living in Paxton. (A fresh emigrant would not go among Indians.) In 1747-8 he was a member of the militia. In 1750 he appeared on the first tax list. He settled on the lower end of Duncan's Island, with Francis on the Big Island to the east and James to the west on the Juniata shore. Tradition says that James and William were brothers. Certainly Francis was a third brother. In the fall of 1755 William with the others fled to Fort Hunter, but not till he had planted a crop of wheat on the island. He had also staked out claims up the Juniata River and on Little Juniata Creek. He had improved the former and evidently considered himself a resident of Cumberland Co.

The spring of 1756 saw the beginning of the erection of Fort Halifax. William supplied 1660 feet of Pine Boards for the fort. The fort was completed in July. On July 29 William Baskins was killed by Indians whom he thought friendly. He had returned to harvest grain. A full account is given elsewhere. His inventory lists 9 bushels of wheat at £ 1-13-9 (about $4).

The Indians may have picked him out because of his 1744 connections, or because he supplied the fort with boards, or because he was the only settler around when they came down the river. His estate was probated in Cumberland County, with James as administrator.

The 1762 map lists Widow Baskins on Duncan's Island. The Ross petition says that the Island was unoccupied 1756-62 with all buildings and fences burned. There was no one on it 1763-65.

The name of William Baskins' wife is not known. It was likely Mary. Since she named a son Moses she may have named him for her father. The only Moses in the 1750 tax lists is a Moses Wayne. In 1762 the "Widow Baskins" applied for 200 acres including her improvement up the Juniata. In 1766 James applied for land on Little Juniata Creek for the William Baskins estate. The 1767 Ross petition shows that she was married then to Francis Ellis. The Ross petition says that in 1762 he rented the Island from the widow. In 1767 he mentions the Widow Baskins and her husband. This implies that they were married about 1765. Mary was probably married three times, first to William Baskins about 1744, second to ----- Findley, third to Francis Ellis. Rev. John C. Bucher on June 20, 1765 married Francis Ellis and Mary Findley. A William Findley is listed in the William Baskins' estate. Mary Baskins' oldest daughter married a Finley. In January 1771 James Baskins, administrator of the William Baskins estate entered a judgment against Francis Ellis and his wife, Mary.

William Baskins had two sons, John and Moses (letters of administration granted in Lancaster Co. April 25, 1777). They are named in the estate settlement. Moses is mentioned in a Rye Twp deed 1774 and is assessed the same year. He lived along the Juniata River on his father's claim. John Baskins in 1774 sold his share in the land granted to his father. He listed himself as a blacksmith of District 96, South Carolina. This is now the Abbeville region. The deed was acknowledged in Cumberland Co, Pa - this shows that John was back home in 1774. He may be the John who in 1768 made a trip in Tennessee, was captured by Indians along the lower Ohio, and was taken to Detroit. During the Revolution John Baskins lived in Washington Co., Tenn. (then N.C.). He is listed in Washington Co. court records 1781, 1782, 1784. On June 12, 1783 the commissioners paid him for revolutionary service in three payments a total of £16-11-8. That year he was also granted 173 acres on Onion Branch of Little Limestone Creek. He may have moved south for in 1791 his name is in Greene Co. Tenn. court records. He may have married a second time, for John Baskins married Dec. 7, 1790 in Greene Co., Mary Middleton. There is no further record of John Baskins, but some of the family must have pushed on south for there is a Baskins Creek at Gatlinburg, Tenn. A son, Moses, was living in Tipton Co., Tenn. 1840.

A third son of William is indicated under the chapter on Timothy Murphy. There were two daughters, Margaret, who married a Finley and later John Smith; Ann (Nancy) who married Joseph Martin and later Gilbert McCoy. The oldest Smith daughter and the oldest Martin daughter were named Mary.

d. Francis Ellis

Francis Ellis had gone with William Baskins on the 1744 trip; he had been a battoe man 1757-8 with Thomas Baskins (probably a fourth brother). He is listed as having two farms on the 1762 map. In 1766 he paid taxes in Rye Twp; 1772-73 in Upper Paxton Twp; 1779-84 in Greenwood Twp. Letters of administration in his estate were granted Sept. 3, 1784 to Francis Ellis, Jr. in Cumberland Co. The wife was likely dead, for in 1786 the land was sold. Francis Ellis, Jr., a freeman in Rye Twp. 1788, bought a lot in the new town of Lewistown Mar. 14, 1792. On Mar. 1, 1792 he had married Isabella Millar of Rye Twp. In 1800 he was back at the island. He returned to Lewistown and after 1806 he married the widow of William Powers. Francis Ellis, Jr. d Oct 24, 1818, at Lewistown, a Revolutionary veteran. These facts are known about him: 1793 store; 1809 tavern; 1812 butcher; 1813 house for sale; several children including Robert Finley Ellis 1797-1870.

e. Francis Baskins

There are not many details to the life of Francis Baskins. [He settled on Big Island in 1749 --- the year it was opened for settlement.] The first assessment (1750) after the 1749 Purchase shows Francis Baskins as a trader, surely living on the lower end of Big Island - known in 1760 as Baskins' Island. This was the site of an old Conoy Indian town. As an Indian trader Francis likely knew many of the Indians who travelled up and down the rivers. The lower end of the Big Island was a strategic location, at the junction of the Juniata and Susquehanna.

In the fall of 1755 everyone fled to Fort Hunter and the Paxton region. Francis is listed as receiving £1-15-6 from and paying £9-6-0 to James Baskins, the administrator of William Baskins' estate. In the summer of 1761 Francis Baskins died. This was just about the time the settlers were returning. James Baskins was appointed administrator Aug 31, 1761 by the Lancaster Co. court. The 1762 Hulings map of the region was made at Fort Pitt. Hulings did not know of Francis' death and shows his land at the tip of Big Island.

The inventory of Francis Baskins was filed Nov. 30, 1761 and lists only his improvement, valued at £80. An incorrect statement is made in the inventory. The goods and chattels "as they were equally divided amongst the children at the decease of his widow" is the term used. It meant as "they are to be divided." The Widow is taxed until 1787 for land on Big Island. In that year her name is scratched out and the land divided between William and George. When the sheriff sold George's interest, it is described as an undivided third. The third interest was held by Margaret Baskins Diven. John Diven and William Baskins are listed together a number of places.

The tax lists show Widow Baskins 1769-70, 1779-86 and "Francis Baskins" 1771-75. The assessor knew that it was the estate of Francis and listed it under that name. The given name of the Widow is not known. It may have been Susannah. She was likely a daughter of George Clark, Sr. George Clark is on the 1750 assessment. The William Baskins inventory (1756) mentions George Clark, Jr. George Clark is listed on the 1762 map. He was dead in 1770. George Clark, William Baskins and John Diven lived on the lower part of Big Island in 1799. Francis' son, George, introduced a new given name to the Baskins family. The name Clark is a given name in George and William's descendants. The name Francis was also a new name in the Baskins family.

He was likely named for his maternal grandfather.

Francis likely had two other daughters. Mary Baskins born c1754, died 1825, married c1774 David Gray, died 1822. They moved to Richhill Twp. Greene Co., before 1779, where David was a judge from 1796 until his death in 1822.

Her sister, Susannah Baskins born 1756, died 1837, married c1775 Matthew Gray, brother of David. Their oldest son William was born Sept. 20, 1776. Matthew was killed by Indians March 9, 1781 three miles west of Fort Jackson, now Waynesburg, Pa. David and Matthew had a brother John who was born Jan. 18, 1761 near Carlisle, went West in 1779 and died Aug. 19, 1834 in Greene Co. All three served in the Revolution.

Mrs. M. C. Liggett of Washington, Pa. has an iron pot which "was property of (David) Baskins who resided at (Valley Forge,) Pa. by him given to her daughter Susannah at her marriage 1775 and brought over the mountains 1776." Shortly before her death in June 1837 Susannah Baskins Gray gave the pot to her grandson, who wrote the account. Mrs. Liggett is granddaughter of the grandson.

f. William Baskins (son of Francis)

William Baskins was born about 1750 either at Paxton or on the Big Island. His father died in 1761. His mother returned to Big Island permanently about 1765 and lived there till her death about 1786. She is listed as Widow Baskins.

William was a freeman, single man over 21, in Rye Twp. 1772 and 1773. He served in the Revolution as a private. Feb. 14, 1776 he and Gilbert McCoy enlisted in Capt. Robert Adams' company for one year. They marched from the Juniata to Quebec, where Adams of Mifflin County was killed and Ensign Thomas McCoy taken prisoner.

In 1782 William together with George Clark and John Diven served in Capt. William Johnston's militia company. In 1786 William Baskins was a member of the militia. About 1785 William married Catharine Armstrong, a neighbor. Their oldest son, Armstrong, was born 1786. They gave a deed Mar 23, 1787 for a location which Catharine had taken up on Armstrong's Creek; a 197 acre tract named Indian bottom. John Diven and James Baskins were witnesses to the deed.

William's name appears on the tax lists 1787-1802. He apparently always lived on Big Island, for in 1799 he, George Clark and John Diven were living on the lower part of Big Island. John Diven had married William's sister Margaret in 1782. His brother George went to Greene Co., Pa. about 1790. In the 1790 census William had 1 son and 1 daughter. In the 1800 census he had one son over 10 and 4 daughters under 10. In 1801 he and John Diven witnessed John Smith's will.

In 1802 William Baskins and his brother-in-law John Diven pulled up stakes and turned their faces to the North, leaving their home on the Susquehanna at Baskins Island. They stopped at Elmira and Montour Falls, finally ending at what is now Watkins Glen, N.Y. - town of Dix, county of Schuyler - then town of Catharine, county of Tioga. They found several white families in this pioneer settlement, a number of Indians as well as panther, wild cats, foxes, wolves, deer, bear. This account was related by William's son, Clark, and is taken from the 1879 History of Schuyler and other Cos. On Sept. 8, 1818 the Presbyterian Church at what is now Watkins Glen was organized with William & Catharine Baskins, John and Eleanor Diven, Mrs. Jane Baskins, Miss Elizabeth Diven among the founders. William Baskins was an elder. John Diven, Sr. became an elder in 1821. In 1822 William Baskins and John Diven sold their interest in Big Island or Baskins Island in Penna. Margaret Baskins Diven died in Penna. Oct. 9, 1799. The date of death of William Baskins has not been found. He was living in 1830.

William Baskins and John Diven settled south of what is now known as the "old county line":

g. George Baskins (son of Francis)

George Baskins was born at Paxton in June 1761, a few weeks before his father died. From 1765 to 1790 he lived on Big Island. Following his mother's death he was taxed for part of the Island 1787-89. In 1789 he sold his share of the land. Two years later his share was sold by the Sheriff to satisfy a debt.

George decided to try his fortune in the west and moved to Richhill Twp., Greene Co. Pa. Here he warranted 75 acres of land May 6, 1794. About this time he married Rachel Braddock, daughter of Francis and Elizabeth (Martin) Braddock. He is said to have served as an Indian scout under Anthony Wayne. In 1804 he bought 432 acres of land in Richhill Twp.

His location in Richhill Twp. was likely due to the fact that his sisters, Mary Baskins Gray and Susannah Baskins Gray had settled in Richhill Twp. moving from Paxton about 1775.

Ohio beckoned, so in 1824 George Baskins and his family moved to North Bloomfield Twp., Morrow Co., Ohio. He and James Kerr, son-in-law, came all the way from Penna. in wagons, and settled in an unbroken forest. (History of Morrow Co. 1880, p. 392). In this township was born Warren G. Harding; his father was one of the pioneers. Here George Baskins died in 1852 at the age of 91. His wife died in 1848. They are buried in the Ebenezer Methodist Churchyard $4\frac{1}{2}$ miles south of Galion, Ohio, on Highway 19. They had a number of children, including sons, Francis, Abner, William, and George.

A Methodist society was organized at Kerr's 1835-36. On December 23, 1845 George and wife, Rachel, and son Francis sold land for Ebenezer Church. Apparently by 1855 all the sons had moved. Abner left Ohio May 27, 1852 and arrived in Bremer Co., Iowa June 22, travelling with teams. Their first home was a log cabin covered with clapboards, having a puncheon floor.

h. John Diven

John Diven was born, probably at Carlisle, 1757. His father, Alexander Diven, a native of Co. Tyrone, Ireland, had gone from York County, Penna. and taken up 195 acres in Tyrone (now Spring) Twp., Perry County in 1755. This was the year the land office opened. By October 1755 Indian attacks had driven the settlers south to Carlisle. They did not return permanently until 1765.

His son said of John Diven: "He was a private in the company of Penna. Volunteers. His captain, name as I remember it, was Kelly, a cabinet-maker with a number of apprentices, among them my father. (Robert Kelly lived in Tyrone Twp. as early as 1763. He died in 1790.) Kelly influenced his apprentices to enlist. My father was at the battle of Princeton (Jan. 1777) and in camp at Valley Forge, and his term of enlistment expired about the time of the breaking camp at the latter place (likely spring of 1778). I remember his statements of his hardships and the cold at Valley Forge; of guarding the Hessian prisoners at Princeton, and their terror from the idea that they were to be shot; of a pathetic scene at a review by Washington of the troops at Valley Forge."

John Diven served as a private in the Cumberland County militia 1779-82. On Jan. 10, 1782 John Diven of Centre Church and Margaret Baskins of Susquehanna were married by the Rev. John Linn. They settled on Big (or Baskins) Island; on which Margaret's father, Francis, had first settled in 1749.

John Diven was a carpenter, according to a 1794 deed. In 1793-94 he was Captain of a company of riflemen in the Dauphin County militia. Margaret died in 1799 and John Diven m² Eleanor Means. In 1802 John Diven and his brother-in-law William Baskins moved north to what is now Watkins Glen, New York. On June 14, 1802 Diven bought 100 acres; in 1816 50 more. Here he was a founder (1818) and elder (1821) in the Presbyterian Church. In 1823 he was postmaster. He died in 1842. His grave in the County Line Cemetery, one mile west of Watkins Glen is marked by a monument "Capt. John Diven, a soldier of the Revolution, died Sept. 23, 1842, in his 86th year."

A son by the second marriage was Alexander S. Diven (1809-1896) whose biography is found in the Dictionary of American Biography. He was a lawyer in Elmira, a member of the New York Senate and of the United States Congress 1861-63. He was a general in the Civil War; a magnate in the Erie Railroad. (E. D. Buchanan is a descendant.)

i. Robert Baskin

Robert Baskin, a fuller, moved from Northumberland Co. in 1808 to Buffalo Twp. Perry Co. His will was written Aug. 25, 1813 with a codicil Aug. 25, 1814. It was probated Jun 1, 1815. Besides mentioning his wife and children, he mentions his "dear brother Thomas" of Northumberland Co. and his brother-in-law John McGinniss. He and his wife are buried in the McGinniss lot at the Hill Church, near New Buffalo. Robert's stone reads "Died Apr. 14, 1814 Aged 53." This is an error according to his will and should have read "Died Apr. 14, 1815 Aged 53." His wife's stone reads Catharine Baskin "Died September 30, 1824 Aged 74." Her age is likely incorrect, for her father was born 1739 and her mother 1743. The name is always "Baskin" in this branch.

Robert, Thomas and John may have been sons of Thomas Baskin who was a battoe man with Francis Ellis 1757-8 between Harris' Ferry and Fort Augusta (Sunbury). No record has been found of the death of Thomas, Sr. Since Robert, Thomas and John each named their oldest sons, John, they may have been sons of a John; but no John appears in the records. The name Oliver is found in all three families, Robert, Thomas, John.

Information on Robert Baskin before 1808, when he moved from Northumberland Co., is difficult to obtain. He is not listed in the 1790 or 1800 census. His son Oliver was born in Pennsylvania 1795. His wife Catharine was likely daughter of James (1738-1804) and Mary (1743-1805) Cochran McGinniss. Catharine was born about 1764. She and Robert were married about 1784 for their son John was born Mar. 16, 1785.

The only McGinniss in Northumberland Co. is James McGinniss who lived in White Deer Twp. now Union Co. 1783-87 according to tax lists and in 1790 had 3 sons under 16 and three daughters. Marcus Hulings was in White Deer Twp. 1776. Across the Susquehanna from White Deer Twp. was Turbot Twp. Here lived Cornelius Atkinson from about 1771-78. James Baskins applied for land in Turbot in 1774. Thomas "Basins" lived in Turbot 1800.

If Thomas, Sr. was the father of Robert, Thomas and John, he may have been married about 1761. He might have moved to Northumberland Co. in the 1770s; or possibly his sons did in the 1780s. Robert was certainly in White Deer in 1784. There was movement back and forth, for Thomas was in Cumberland Co. 1793.

James McGinniss was in Derry Twp., now Dauphin Co. 1782. The McGinniss' likely moved from Derry to White Deer and then back to Perry Co. James, Sr. and Jr., Mary wife of Sr., and others are buried with Robert Baskin and wife near New Buffalo. James Jr. bought a farm in Buffalo Twp. 1795.

j. Thomas Baskin (brother of Robert)

Thomas Baskin in 1793 was between 18 and 45 and was a member of the Cumberland County militia with Mitchell Baskins. In 1800 he is likely the "Thomas Basins" who was in Turbot Township, Northumberland County, and had 1 son over 10, one under 10, and two daughters under 10. He and his wife were between 25 and 45. He is likely the father of Dr. John Baskin, born 1788, died 1851 Mercer, Pa., a resident of Selinsgrove, Pa. 1818-20 and a Judge in Union County 1843.

Thomas married Catharine Cunningham about 1787. She had a brother, Andrew, who died in Ohio. About 1815 Thomas and family, except the oldest, John, moved to Madison Twp., Highland Co., Ohio. In the 1820 census he had 3 sons and 7 daughters. In 1838 he and his son, Robert, had a tannery in Marshall Twp. Thomas died about 1845. In 1849 his sons, Andrew and Robert were in Jackson Twp. In 1860 the widow of Andrew, Robert, and the widow of Thomas (?) were in Liberty Twp.

There was likely a third brother of Robert and Thomas -- John Baskin, who in 1820 lived just east of Thomas in Buckskin Twp., Ross Co., Ohio with 1 son (16-26) and 4 daughters. Likely the son is the John Baskin (born 1798 Pa.) who died in 1864 in Hillsboro, Liberty Twp., Highland Co., Ohio

8. Timothy Murphy of Ontario

One of the most interesting chapters in the Baskins history is that of Timothy Murphy. When William Baskins was killed by the Indians July 29, 1756, the Pennsylvania Gazette says the Indians "carried off his wife and children." A grandson of William, James Smith, as related in Rupp's History (1846), said that the wife escaped and the girl, 7, and boy, 3, were taken into captivity. The girl, Margaret (Peggy), was released at the forks of the Muskingum in Ohio in 1764 and returned home. The settlement of William Baskins estate in 1770 does not include the boy who was presumed dead.

The James Smith account relates:

"The lad... was carried to Canada, where he was raised by Sir William Johnson, not knowing the name of the boy, when he was baptised by a missionary, was named, Timothy Murphy. He was afterwards discovered by Alexander Stephens, Mr. James Stephens' father, who resides in Juniata Twp. Perry Co. by some peculiar mark on his head. He has visited his friends in Perry; James Smith, his nephew, when at Canada in defense of his country, during the late war (1812), visited him and found him comfortably situated near Malden in Upper Canada (now Ontario) and the owner of a large estate."

Apparently the Baskins boy was taken by a different tribe of Indians and was carried to the Detroit area where he was ransomed by a British officer or trader. Most of the Smith account appears to be correct, except that Sir William Johnson (1715-1774) did not live in Canada. He lived in eastern New York. However, he visited Detroit in 1761 and had many dealings with Indians.

Alexander Stephens, who discovered Timothy Murphy, had lived as an Indian trader among the Shawnee Indians for a number of years. From 1758 for several years he travelled in western Pennsylvania. He would have a very good chance of locating Baskins. He moved to Georgia about 1786 and became the grandfather of Alexander H. Stephens. James Smith in 1814 was a Sgt. under Capt. James Piper, 1st Brigade, 7th Division, Cumberland Co. In 1814 Perry Co. was a part of Cumberland. The American troops during the War of 1812 occupied the Fort Malden area 1813-15. The countryside was not disturbed.

"James Smith was born April 4, 1777 in Cumberland County on the Bank of the Juniata on the Farm then Belonging to Andrew Stephens Sr." Taken from the Smith Bible. James Smith married Mary Clark June 5, 1800. For a while the Smiths lived at Lewistown; later they lived at Newport, Pa.

The interesting part about Timothy Murphy is that a search of records in Michigan and Ontario shows that Timothy Murphy lived in this area as early as 1787, and that he died in the Township of Sandwich, County of Essex, Ontario, May 4, 1840. If 3 when captured in 1756, he died at 87. His wife, Eleanor Fields Murphy, died the winter of 1844-45.

Documentary record of Timothy Murphy:

(1763 Detroit given by French to British)

1787 Blacksmith at (Fort) Michilimackinac (now Mackinac, Michigan)

1790 Mentioned in a letter

(1796 Detroit and Michilimackinac ceded to United States)

(1797-99 Fort Malden built at Amherstburg, Ont.)

1795 December 25 Appointed Blacksmith for Indian Dept. of Amherstburg (Murphy then of Detroit)

1796 Spring Bought a farm in Essex Co.

1797 Dec 25 Appointed blacksmith for Indian Dept at Amherstburg

1798 Summer Resigned as blacksmith, did not want to reside at Amherstburg

1809 April 4 Timothy & Eleanor Murphy witness at baptism of son of Fred'k Fisher, Indian Dept employee

1810 April 1 witness at marriage of George Ironside (Indian Dept employee) to Isabella, an Indian, sister of Tecumseh - St John's Anglican Parish

1812-13 Timothy Murphy assessed at Malden

(1813-15 Malden occupied by Americans)

1815 June 15 Murphy from age and long services (then 62) is no longer able to repair the arms of the Indians

1819 Timothy Murphy, a resident of the Petit Cote, south side of Detroit River saw two British soldiers desert to an American ship in the Detroit River

1840 April 9 Will written, left everything to his wife Eleanor (apparently the witnesses included some Indians)

1840 May 4 Died

Her will lists property totaling about 1000 acres in farm land and a house and lot on Bedford St. Sandwich (now Windsor).

Apparently, the Baskins boy was taken by the Indians to the Detroit region. He was given the name Timothy Murphy and after the British took over Detroit he was released by the Indians. He was brought up as a British subject and when the British gave up Detroit he settled across the river at Sandwich, although he was living south of Sandwich at Malden in 1812-13. Before 1809 he married Eleanor Fields. Murphy was a blacksmith as was his brother, John in Dist 96, South Carolina. Was this a coincidence? (Did he meet his brother John at Detroit 1768?)

This Timothy Murphy should not be confused (as many writers have done) with another Timothy Murphy. The other Timothy Murphy, the hero of the battle of Saratoga was baptised March 23, 1755 by Rev. John Casparus Freyemuth of the Minisink-Mackachameck (NJ) Dutch Reformed Church. His parents were Thomas and Mary (Lundy) Murphy. He was born in what is now Morris Co., N.J. About 1773 he moved to the New Purchase, Northumberland Co. On June 25, 1775 he enlisted under Capt. John Lowdon and served as a rifleman in many battles of the Revolution.

On October 7, 1777 he killed at long range General Fraser and turned the tide at the battle of Saratoga. He married first Oct. 1, 1780 Margaret Feeck by whom he had six children. He had four more by his second wife Mary Robertson, whom he married April 22, 1810. Timothy Murphy's tombstone at Middleburg, N.Y. says he died June 27, 1818 at the age of 67.

Andrew Baskins Stephens, son of Alexander Stephens wrote May 6, 1806 in a letter to Aaron and Jane Grier:

I was born in the state of Pennsylvania in Cumberland county, in the year 1782, of low parentage; by father's side particularly on account of my grandmother being a widow. Whether necessity, or an idea of promotion, or the tyranny of a domineering stepfather induced my father at an early age to become a resident among Northern Shawnee Indians, I cannot tell, but he passed a considerable part of his youth with that copperfaced tribe; insomuch that his fortunes and accomplishments were by no means accepted by my mother's family. However, by an unwearied diligence he surmounted many inconveniences and became rather respected in the American Revolution. His manner of life since my remembrance has been regular and not economical. He is now on the borders of eighty and possessed of more sprightliness than many of fifty. My mother was the eldest daughter of James Baskins, who in his life, kept a ferry above Harris's on the Susquehanna river. Her life was exemplary, and the Christian manner of her death in 1794 a joy to every dutiful child that survived her. She had ten children, two of whom died at an early age; the others are much scattered. My eldest sister (Jane) and myself (the oldest and the youngest) with our father are the only remains of a once flourishing family (i.e., the only ones left at home). One sister (Mary) within three miles of us, is the only other relative I have in the state.

April 28, 1813 he wrote from Paxton to his sister Polly:

I am now under old Cousin Hugh Stephens roof.... at Aunt Elders.... I saw several relatives and so on to Brother James.... Brother has a pretty promising family and a wife inferior to none.... I saw Aunt Baskins, Uncle Mitchels widow and family, who are living about two miles from Grandfather's old Ferry..... (She) pointed to the place where he (Uncle) slept long side of his father. I also saw Cousin Hezekiah (or Hosiah) Martin, Richardson... more of the relatives.

May 4, 1823 he wrote from Georgia to his brother James:

I misremember where you told me sister E. Coulter lived. I should be glad to know in case of my ever visiting their country or in writing to them... Our respect is offered to Mr. Alexander Garrett and Family, the scattered fragments of Uncle Mitchel Baskins's, not forgetting cousin James Kilgores, and every other branch of our family...

November 10, 1824 he wrote from Georgia to his aunt Jane Jones:

I wrote you as soon as I knew where to direct my letter. When I was in Pennsylvania no person could inform me exactly where you lived.... considerable anxiety in seeing my relations, a cause for this no doubt was leaving them so young, and particularly my mothers sisters. Fathers kindred never lay with so much weight on my mind, probably because my attachment for Mother was greatest, and losing her young when I was no more than twelve years old. A combination of circumstances as well as causes and consequences had from time to time given me a decided preference toward Mothers family.... I often figure to myself how you would appear to me, more particularly since

I saw and conversed with Aunt Daugherty (his aunt Sarah Dougherty was about 67 in 1813). I did not find my Pennsylvania relations as I expected, nor the citizens of that country; when I left home I calculated if I lived to see Pennsylvania I would find every Plow-man a politician; I made no calculation on finding brother James so comfortably situated as he was; I made no calculation on finding Fathers relations more wealthy than Mothers; but upon the whole I was very agreeably disappointed in many of my fancied calculations. I found the people of Pennsylvania friendly; I found brother James as I had always known him an elder brother; and what added the more to my comfort and joy was the affectionate reception I met from his wife....

(Then follows an acrostic on the Ten Commandments based on J A N E B J O N E S)

I would compare the perusal of it (this letter) with my conversation with Aunt Margaret Baskins (Uncle Mitchel's widow) who on hearing from her as it were a second time she was gone. (She died 1814.).... And Aunt Daugherty likewise She made her exit shortly after I saw her

April 18, 1825 he wrote again to his aunt, Jane Baskins Jones, of Addison, Steuben County, New York.

I thought of when you saw me last, and parted with me at the River I thought of Mother's impressions upon leaving all her relations, and parting from them to meet no more in this world. I thought of Mother's counsel to me in the most early part of my education. I thought of my being raised in a strange Country, far from all my kindred, except Father's family. I thought of my own anxiety to see my relations after I grew up; and how I was disappointed when the opportunity offered. I thought of my reception in the Path Valley, how cold, dull and formal it was. Cousin Nehemiah Kilgore's conduct in particular... when in Pennsylvania in 1813. Aunt I guess that Cousin John Baskins (son of Mitchell) directed your letter to me... I have never heard a word from the Coulters, nor brother Nehemiah, since Brother James was here.

August 5, 1826 Jane B. Jones, wrote to Alexander H. Stephens after hearing of the death of his father.

10. Baskin Families of Virginia

William Baskin settled in Augusta (then Orange) Co., Va. in 1740. He proved his importation in Virginia in that year, as did John Pickens. (W. W. Scott: A History of Orange Co., Va. 1907). His son, Charles, was baptized March 15, 1741 by Rev. John Craig. William's name appears on a 1742 muster roll. In 1745 he resigned as a constable in Augusta Co. In 1747 he became road overseer. In 1747 he bought 212 acres on Lewis Creek; in 1749 232 acres on Buffalo Run. He had a servant in 1752 and in 1761. His name appears in the records many times between 1745 and 1765 when he sold his land and moved to South Carolina.

William Baskin, Sr. had married Mary Stuart, probably in Ireland. There were a number of Stuarts in Augusta Co. William had six sons. All their names are listed in Virginia, except Hugh the youngest: John is first listed in 1756, Thomas in 1758, Wm Jr 1756, Charles 1765, James 1765.

William Jr and John were members of Capt Israel Christian's company Aug 9, 1756. William Jr served during the French and Indian War in Penna and was stationed at Fort Ligonier 1761-62. The Virginia House of Burgesses on Dec 11, 1766 gave him $40 for meritorious service under Col. Bouquet on the expedition against the Shawnee and Delaware Indians. This was likely the expedition that brought Margaret (Peggy) Baskins of Pa. back from Indian captivity.

John went to South Carolina about 1763 and took up land. His report was so encouraging the whole family decided to follow -- about 1766 or 1767. Charles Baskin returned about 1770. His Revolutionary service was:

August 1776 - Jan 1777 Lt; to Point Pleasant and return

July 1778 - Oct 1778 1st Lt

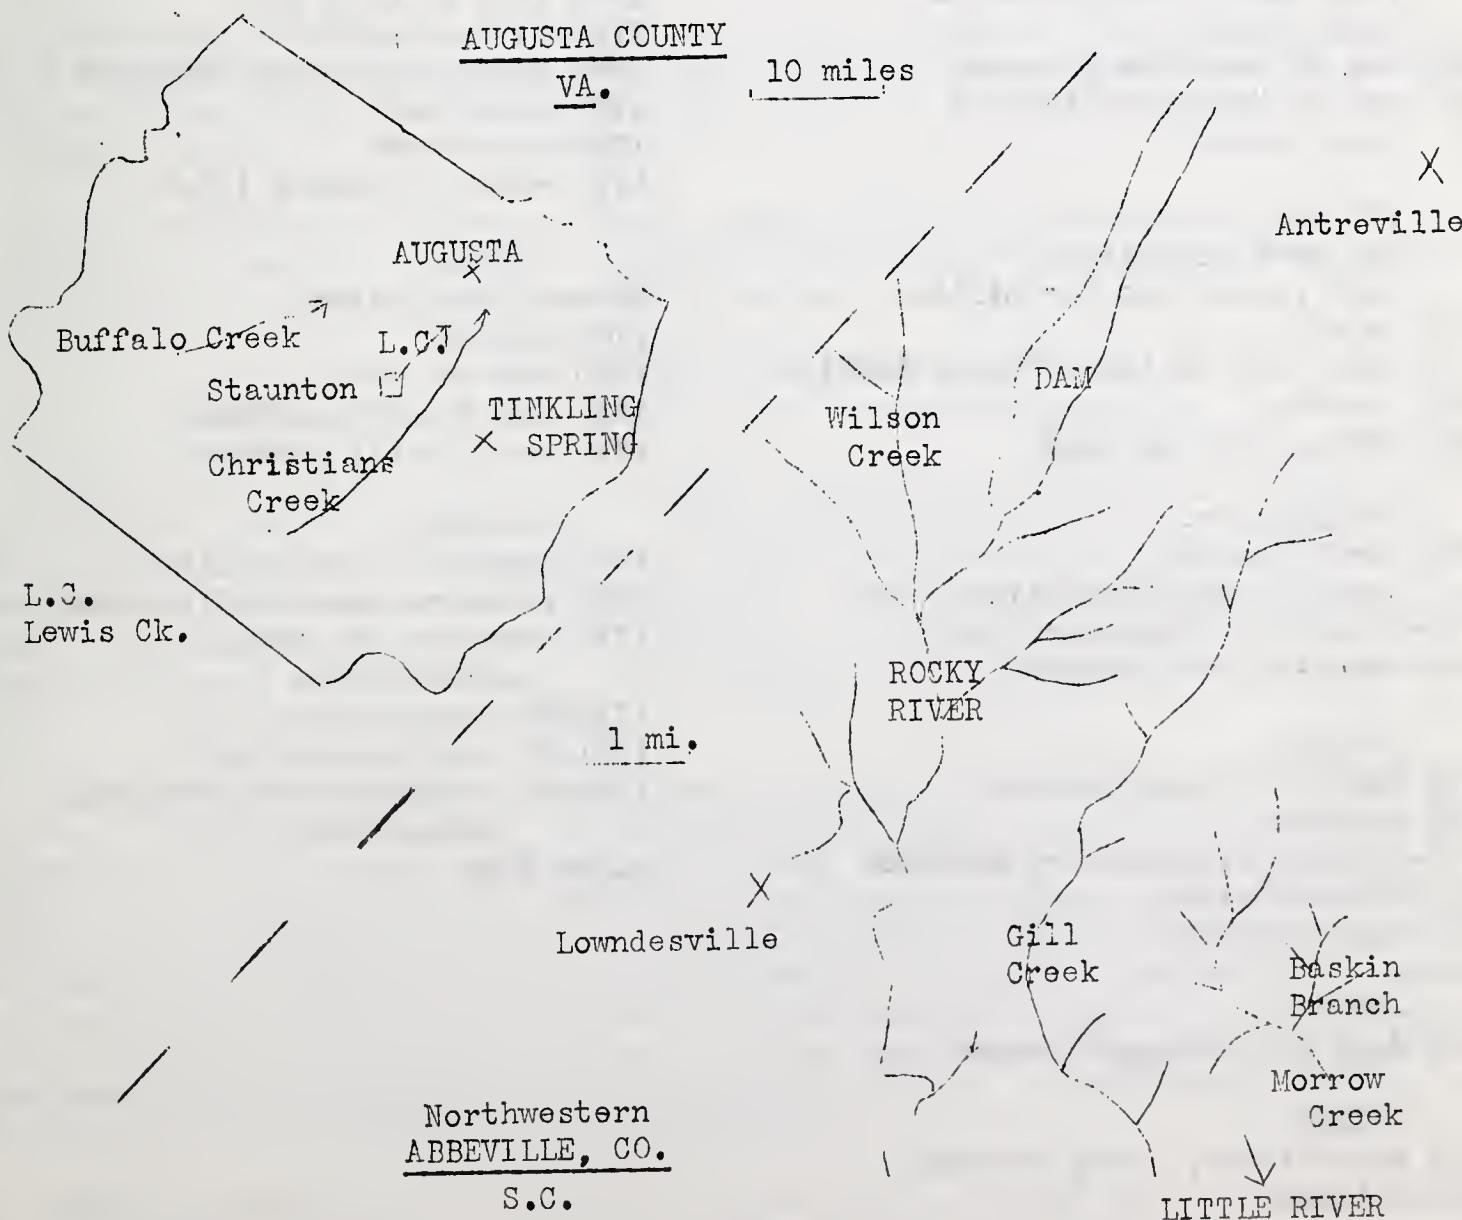

Wounded March 1781 at Guilford Courthouse under Genl. Morgan

June 1781 to Richmond

February 1782 - December 1782 Captain

In 1776 Charles Baskin bought land on Christians Creek. His will written in 1816 and probated in August 1822 mentions his son, John C. and his daughter, Isabella Hellena Graham.

The son, John Craig Baskin - only son of Charles and Mary Craig Baskin - was named for his grandfather, Rev. John Craig. John C. Baskin was a captain in the War of 1812. In his will probated January 1834 he gave his five sons 1083 acres. John C. Baskin and his parents are buried in the Tinkling Spring Cemetery southeast of Staunton, Virginia. A number of his children went to Missouri. Today there are few if any Baskins in Augusta Co. John C. Baskin signed his will as "Baskins". Both spellings appear in the records.

11. Baskin Families of South Carolina

ABBEVILLE COUNTY

In the 1760s a movement started from the Augusta Co., Va. section to the Long Cane section of South Carolina. The first Baskin to go was John who was the oldest. He took up land in 1763 on a branch of Little River. In 1765 he returned to Virginia to be married. His brother James located near him in 1768.

In 1767 Margaret, Thomas' widow; in 1768 Charles and in 1775 William located land on Rocky River, close to John and James, probably on Wilson Creek east of Lowndesville. Hugh was too young to enter a claim. 1767 seems to be the year that William Sr. and his five sons and widow of the sixth settled in the Abbeville section, then District 96. John died in 1769. Charles, who had married the daughter of Rev. John Craig of Augusta Co. found Virginia better than South Carolina and returned to Virginia after about two years. It is not known when William Sr. died. Tradition says the Baskins left Virginia because they did not like their Dutch neighbors.

At the time of the Revolution the three brothers, William, James and Hugh were living in the Abbeville region. All served in the war. William was commissioned Captain April 18, 1777 under Colonel Andrew Williamson. A complete record of military service and land grants to the Baskins is found in the Archives Dept. at Columbia.

James died in 1790, Hugh in 1797 and William in 1804. William was buried at Rocky River Church. Their sons lived for a while around Abbeville and then most of them scattered through the South. Only James H. (son of William) and John (son of James) stayed in Abbeville County.

John Baskin of Pennsylvania, whose father William the Indians killed in 1756, evidently followed his cousins to South Carolina, for he was a blacksmith in Dist. 96 in 1774. He later lived in Tennessee.

KERSHAW COUNTY

Andrew Baskin was likely born in Ireland about 1730 and came to Augusta Co., Va. with his father, likely Robert. Robert Baskin died in 1750; his estate was administered by his brother, William. Augusta Co. records in 1761 mention a Widow Baskin. The first record of Andrew Baskin is in 1752 when he was named as a road viewer for a road to be run to Woods New Gap. In 1753 he with John Pickens and others witnessed a deed given by John Stephenson. There is no proof of the tradition that Andrew's father was John.

About 1755 Andrew Baskin with a number of others from Augusta Co. moved south to the Hanging Rock section of South Carolina to what is now the Flat Rock District of Kershaw County. About 1759 he married Mary Marshall, of Kershaw Co. On Dec. 2, 1761 he was granted land on the south prong of Little Lynches Creek. In 1769 he received money from the John Trimble estate in Augusta Co. In 1772 he was pardoned by the Crown for activities against it. During the Revolution he served as a private on foot and horse 123 days in the autumns of 1779 and 1781, serving under Col. Marshall and Col. Kershaw. He also supplied corn, pork and cattle to the army 1780-81, during that critical period in S.C. In 1784 and in 1785 he received additional land grants for 640 acres.

When Lancaster Co. was formed from Camden Dist. in 1785 Andrew Baskin was one of the justices appointed for the new county. On Jan. 8, 1787 he made a statement as to his Revolutionary service. The S. C. convention which met to vote on the U. S. constitution had Andrew Baskin as one of its members from the District East of the Wateree. On January 19, 1788 he voted against calling a meeting in May. On May 23, 1788 he voted against the constitution. In his district the vote was 9 to 1 against. The state vote was 149 to 73 for adoption. The upstate members made up most of the opposition.

He likely died early in 1790, for his name is not listed in the 1790 census. If he left a will, it was destroyed in 1865 when the Lancaster Co. will records were burned. Where he lived became a part of Kershaw Co. with its formation in 1791. He had three sons, according to a guardian record in Kershaw Co. 1793: John, James, William. He also had several daughters.

John was living in Kershaw Co. in 1810. James died in Kershaw Co. in 1852. William died in Lancaster Co. in 1830. William was granted land in 1794.

Andrew Jackson was born in Lancaster Co. in 1767, a few miles north of where Andrew Baskin and his family lived.

1768 TRIP

Samuel Black and John Baskins - Account of Indians when Prisoners.

Monday Evening the 26th Sept. 1768 about six o'clock Saml Black and John Baskins arrived here (Fort Pitt?) via Detroit and inform as follows viz:

That having been in Company with John Higgins and Eleven other Men in a Large Batteau about 300 Miles up the Shawney River on or About the 28th of June they two set off about Ten Miles further up the said River to choose proper Hunting Ground where they continued Five Days and then returned to the Place where they left the Boat and found four Dead Bodies of Men lying at the place whom they judged to be Danl Kennedy, Jas Wethen, Frederick Myer and John Giles. They then descended the River about 40 miles to a Place where they had left some Corn and Salt and there found a letter from Joseph Hollinshead dated the 2d July ordering any man belonging to any of the Boats that were out to follow him to the Ohio whence he would delay some time. In consequence of which they still proceeded down the Shawney and Ohio Rivers till they reached the Cherokee Fort which they effected in 5 days without overtaking Mr. Hollinshead or any other boat.

From the Cherokee Fort they set off for Fort Chartres but on the second day were attacked & taken prisoners by a party of Thirty Kicapoos who carried them to Detroit which they reached the 1st of August.

Related Families (S.C. and Va.)

An early Scotch-Irish colony was in the Paxton-Donegal region of what was then Lancaster Co, Pa. There are few records in Lancaster Co of these persons who did not stay long. Many landed at New Castle, Del., pushed west through Chester and then moved southwest to Augusta Co, Va.

There has not been an opportunity to find out all the relationships between the Baskin, Pickens, Calhoun, Noble, Hamilton and Stuart families in Ireland, Penna. and Virginia.

William Baskin Sr m Mary Stuart

Patrick Calhoun m Catharine Montgomery, daughter of Hugh (Hugh is a Baskin name)

Mary Calhoun m John Noble

Andrew Pickens, Jr. m Rebecca Calhoun

Archibald Hamilton m Frances Calhoun

John Pickens and William Baskin are associated several places. (bros-in-law?)

Tradition relates the Baskins to the Pickens and Calhoun families.

One tradition says the mother of William Baskin Sr. was a Montgomery.

CALHOUN (S.C.)

Patrick Calhoun, Sr., left Co. Donegal, Ireland 1733 for Pennsylvania. His wife was Catharine Montgomery, daughter of Hugh. In 1741 Patrick died in what was then Lancaster Co. Pa. The administration bond was signed by John Noble and James Mitchell. In 1745 the family migrated to Augusta Co., Va.; in 1756 to Abbeville Co., S. C. In April 1740 he received a call from the congregations at Augusta and Tinkling Spring Churches in Augusta Co, Va. On Sept. 3, 1740 he was ordained as minister and spent the rest of his life there. He died Apr. 21, 1774 and is buried at Augusta Church. Augusta (Old Stone) Church is 8 miles northeast of Staunton. Tinkling Spring is 5 miles southeast of Staunton. On June 11, 1744 he married in Penna, Isabella Hellena Russell, daughter of George Russell. They had one son, George and five daughters who grew to maturity: Mary (1746-1816) m Charles Baskin, Patience (1752-1822) m William Hamilton, Johanna m John Hamilton, daughter m Atwater, another daughter. 1934 SUMMARY (Revised)

At the point in Pennsylvania where the Juniata River flows into the Susquehanna River lie two islands. The larger one of 677 acres is high and rocky and is known today as "Haldeman's Island." The other one, 305 acres in size, is flat and alluvial and today is called "Duncan's Island," although it is no longer separated from the mainland. The larger island has often been called the "Big Island." The islands and the east shore of the Susquehanna lie in Dauphin (formerly Lancaster) County. The west shore of the Susquehanna lies in Perry (formerly Cumberland) County.

The first record of the white man attempting to settle here was in 1733 when John Harris tried to settle at the mouth of the Juniata, but the Indians protested and he was forced to leave. In 1745 when David Brainard, a missionary, visited the Big Island, then known as "Juniata Island," he found a tribe of Conoy Indians living on it. Permanent settlement by the white man did not begin until 1750. The Big Island was warranted by the Proprietaries in 1760. It was then known as "Baskins Island." At the southern tip were remains of an "Old Conoy Town." The Proprietaries also warranted Duncan's Island. A rough map of the region drawn in 1762 by Marcus Hulings gave the location of the early settlers.

About 1750 three brothers, Francis, James, and William Baskins, took up land at the junction of the rivers. The Hulings map showed where they located. Francis settled on the lower end of the Big Island, where he claimed 150 acres. James took up land at the mouth of the Juniata on the west side, and soon established a ferry. In February 1767 he had been living there for sixteen years. The hamlet that grew up about the west landing was called "Baskinsville" - now upper Duncannon. The old burying ground on the bluff is still called the "Baskinsville Graveyard." William Baskins took up land on Duncan's Island and also two other tracts: one of 238 acres (warrant issued to his heirs in 1766) in Rye Township on the Little Juniata Creek; and a claim for 200 acres in the same township on the south bank of the Juniata River, several miles above the mouth.

The first record that we have of William Baskins is in 1744 when he was one of the party which investigated the killing of Jack Armstrong, a trader, by the Indians. Then he probably lived at or near Paxtang. About this year he was married. The name of his wife does not appear in the records. In 1747-8 William Baskins was an ensign under Captain Thomas McKee in the Associated Regiments of the West End of Lancaster County on the Susquehanna River. In 1750 William Baskins with his wife and family moved to Duncan's Island where he erected a house. He was the first settler on the island and was listed in the 1750-51 assessments. Here they lived until the Indian outbreak following the Braddock defeat of July 1755, when all the settlers were driven to the forts for safety. William with his wife and five children, John, Moses, Margaret, Ann, and the youngest was forced to leave his home and go to Fort Hunter, while the Indians were on the warpath. As one of the defenders of the fort, he made several excursions with armed bands from time to time to learn the intentions of the Indians.

In the following summer there seemed to be a cessation of Indian attacks, and as William Baskins had a crop of grain on the island, with a hired man named McClean, his wife and two children, a girl of seven and a boy of three, he returned to harvest it. As nearly as we can ascertain it was July 29, 1756. While at work, the men were startled by warcries. Seeing that the Indians were hostile, the man McClean jumped into the river, swam to a small island in the Juniata, known as "Sheep Island," hid and escaped. Baskins ran to the house, but while reaching for his gun, he was shot dead and scalped. The wife and two children were carried away captive.

Margaret (Peggy), the girl of seven, was carried to the Miami country, then a wilderness in Ohio. She remained in captivity until November 15, 1764 when in accordance with a treaty after Bouquet's victory, she was returned. She was one of "sixty prisoners surrendered by the Indians" and "taken by Captain Charles Lewis from the English Camp at the Forks of the Muskingum to Fort Pitt."

The mother, according to all the histories, when in the vicinity of Carlisle, escaped from the Indians and got safely back to the fort. Tradition says that the boy of three was carried to Canada where he was baptized, "Timothy Murphy." He was afterwards discovered by Alexander Stephens, a cousin by marriage, who identified him by a peculiar mark on the head. Stephens told him of his family, and "Murphy" visited the old home. In 1812 his nephew, James Smith, visited him in Canada, where he owned an estate at Malden, Ontario. When the estate of William Baskin was settled in 1770, the boy was assumed dead, for his name does not appear among the heirs.

The "Widow" about 1765 married a neighbor, Francis Ellis. During the 1756 attacks all the buildings and fences on Duncan's Island were burned, and no one lived there for six or seven years. About 1762 the "Widow" rented the island to David Ross, who cleared 15 acres and erected a house. He was driven off by the Indians in 1763, but returned in 1765. In 1767 the former widow and her husband were living on one of his two farms on or near the Big Island. Francis Ellis, Sr. died in 1784 in Greenwood Township, Cumberland County.

The estate of William Baskins was not settled until May 15, 1770, although letters of administration in Cumberland County had been issued to his brother, James, in September 1756. The inventory was copied from "two obscure papers dated 1755." One item is: "9 bushels wheat 1 L. 13 S. 7 P." Was it this that William gave his life trying to secure? The Court found the total balance 42 pounds, 19 shillings, and 6 pence, and decreed to the "Widow" (name not given) 14 L. 6 S. 1 P. and to the children as follows: to John "eldest son," 11 L. 9 S. 2 P.; to Moses "second son," to Margaret "oldest daughter," to Ann "second daughter" each 5 L. 14 S. 7 P. Both of the sons, John and Moses were then of full age, probably 25 and 23, respectively, with Margaret 21, and Ann, 19.

In 1774 John was a blacksmith in District 96, South Carolina. That year Moses was assessed in Rye Township, Cumberland County. Margaret married John Smith. We have record of one of their children, James Baskins Smith, who was born along the Juniata River April 4, 1777. He lived in Perry County. A granddaughter of his, Miss Annie P. Smith, was living at Lewistown in 1932. About 1773 Ann Baskins married Joseph Martin, son of Samuel of Paxtang, and they established a home by the mills in the great bend of the Juniata, a few miles above the Big Island. A daughter, Mary, was born February 13, 1774 at the new home, but two sons, Samuel and Joseph, were born at the home of their grandmother on the Big Island while their father was in the army "from which he never returned." Samuel was born September 17, 1775 and Joseph July 20, 1777. Samuel settled in Mifflin County, where his descendants still live. We know little about the home on the Big Island. Among the neighbors we find the Hulings, Clark, Watts, Reed and Atkinson families.

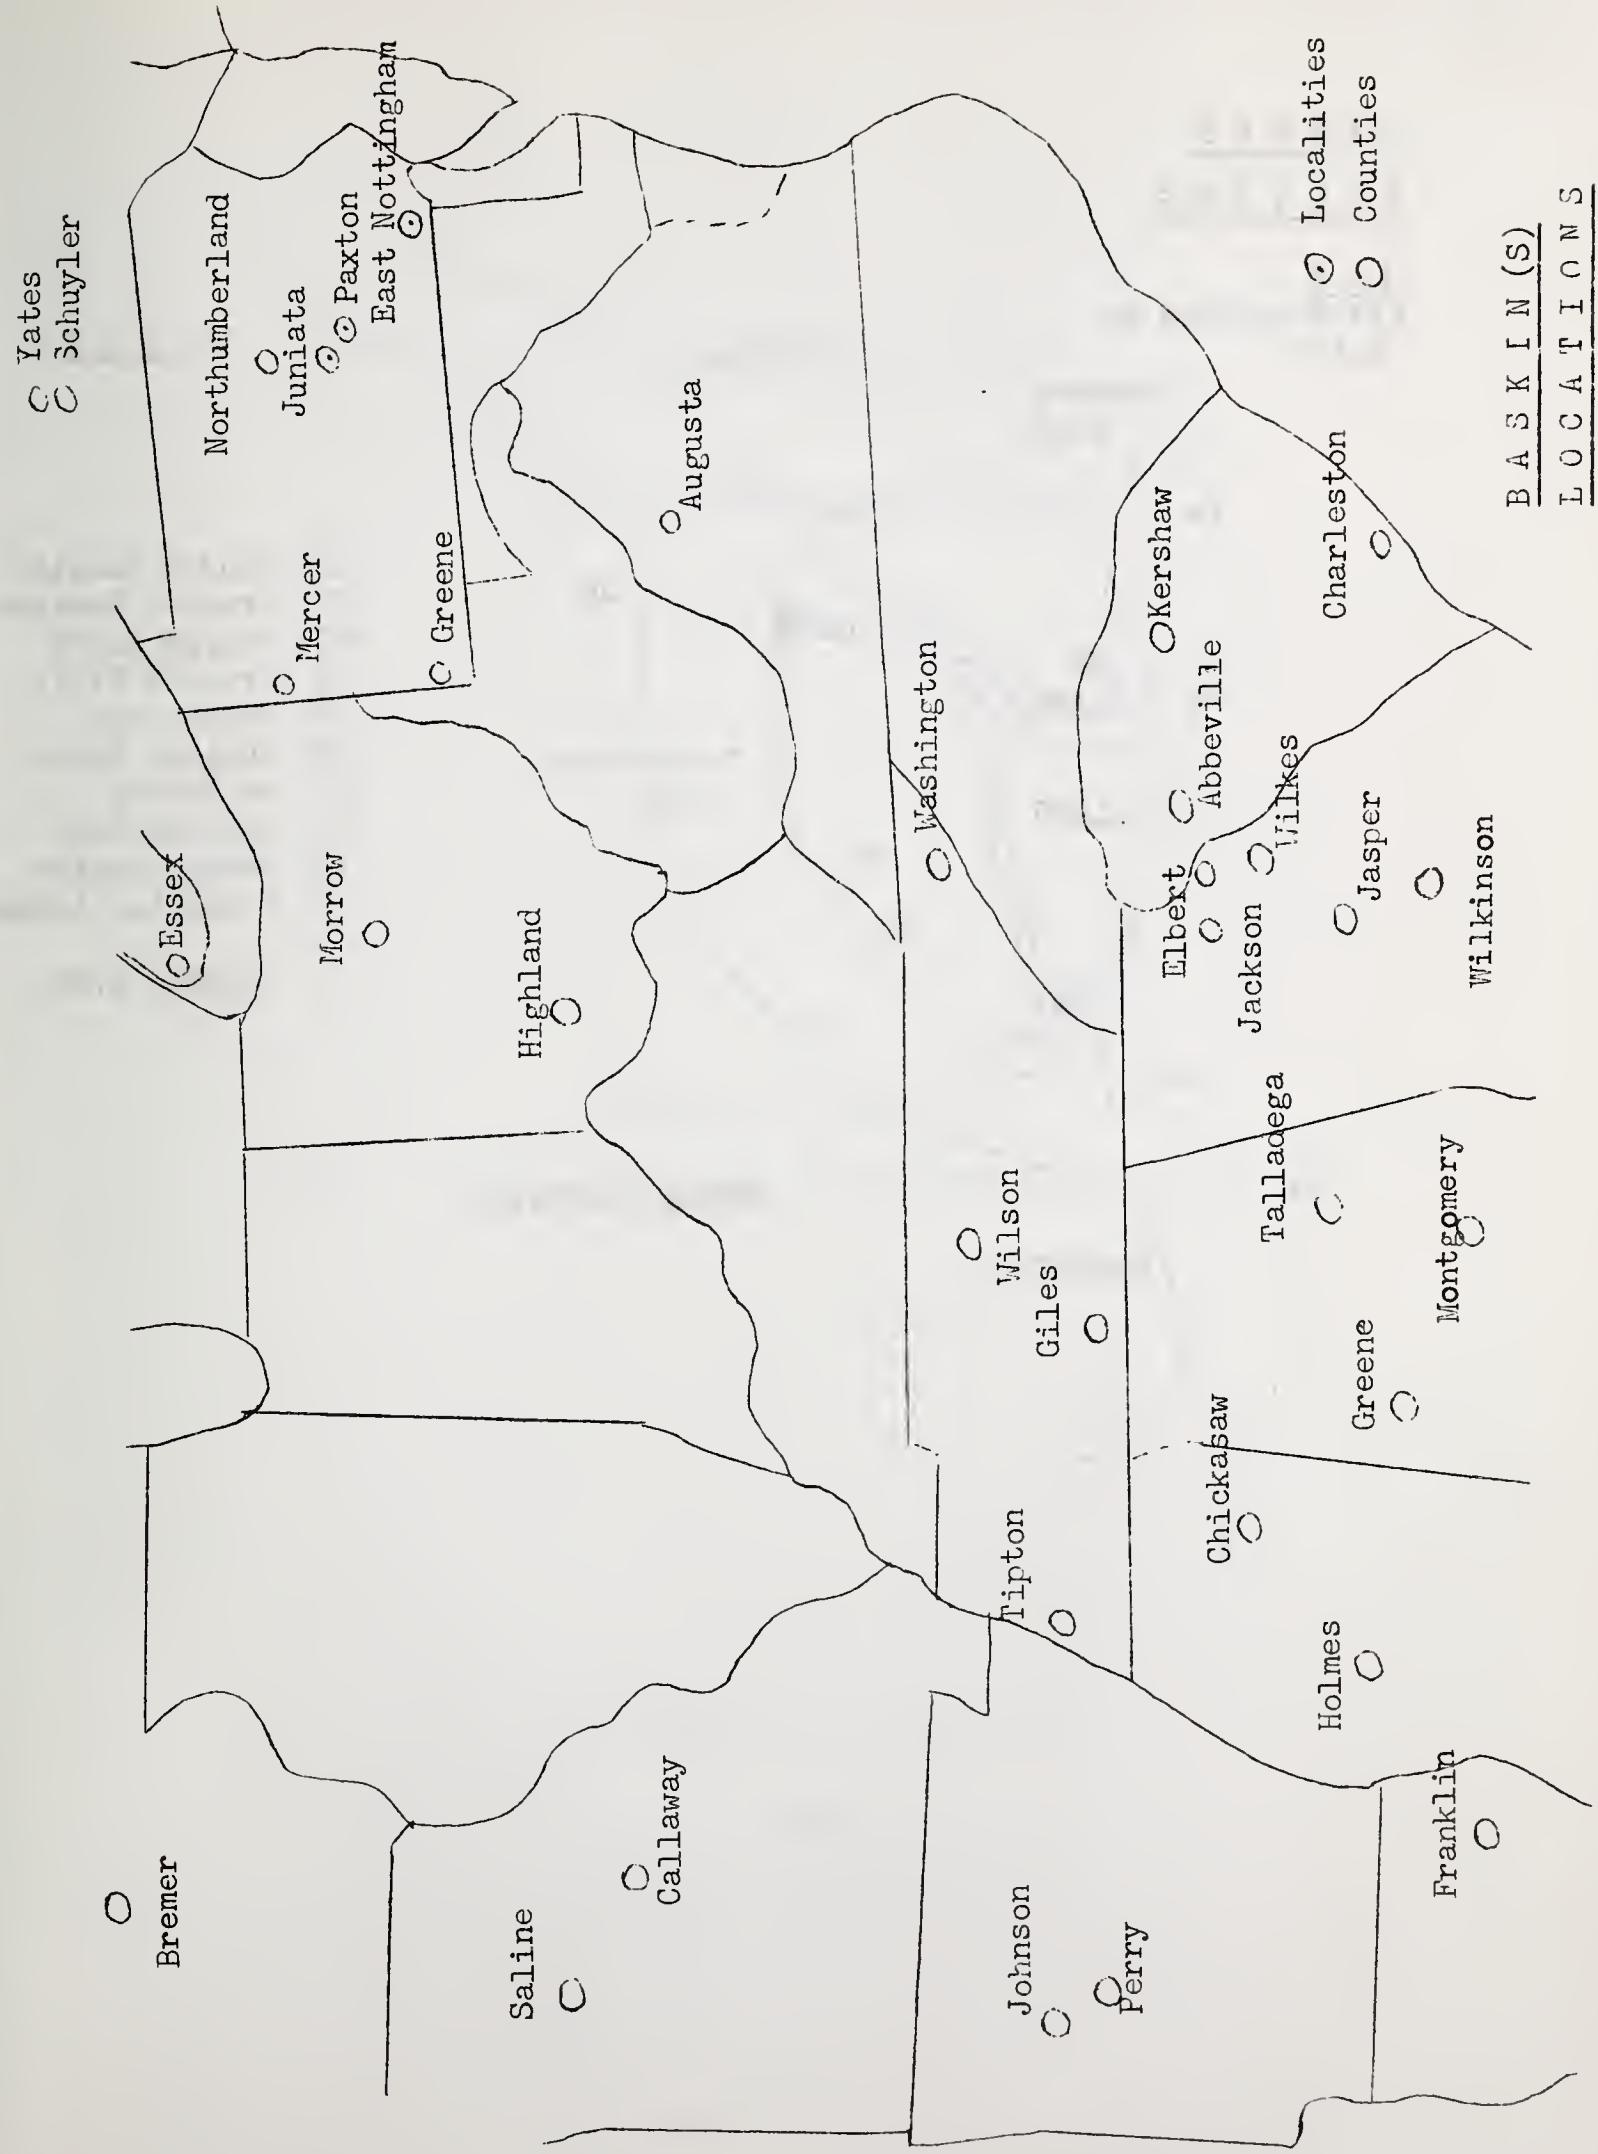

James Baskins, brother of William, operated a ferry at the junction of the rivers for nearly forty years. He administered the estates of William (1756) and Francis (1761). He warranted 300 acres of land at the mouth of the Juniata in 1766. He died at Baskinsville in January 1788 and was buried in the old cemetery on the bluff. His wife, Elizabeth----, died in June 1792. James Baskins by his will probated at Carlisle, February 11, 1788 gave to each of his daughters, Elizabeth McCoy, Catherine Stephens, Sarah Dougherty, and Jane Jones, five pounds then after providing for life occupancy of his wife, he gave all the rest to his son, Mitchell, subject to maintenance of his son, Francis, for life. Mitchell Baskins born October 6, 1754 died April 10, 1809, was a ferryman near Duncannon. He married Margaret ---- born July 5, 1769, died December 9, 1814. Cornelius, a son, continued to operate the ferry. His descendants still live around Duncannon. Catherine Baskins, eldest daughter of James, about 1766 married Alexander Stephens. After the Revolution he with his wife and family migrated to Wilkes County, Georgia, where he died in 1814, aged 87. Catherine Baskins Stephens died at Kettle Creek, Georgia in 1794. The youngest of their ten children was Andrew Baskins Stephens, who was born in Penna. in 1782 and died in Georgia 1826. Andrew was father of Alexander Hamilton Stephens, vice president of the Confederacy.

The third brother, Francis Baskins, died in August 1761. Letters of administration in Lancaster County were issued to his brother, James August 31, 1761. Francis was named in William's estate. He was assessed as a trader at the Big Island as early as 1751. His widow was assessed as "Widow Baskin," in Upper Paxton Township until 1787. We have the name of one son, George, who in 1789 sold his share of the lower end of the Big Island which his father had improved, but had not warranted. Another son was William, of Dauphin County. Robert, of Perry County, and Thomas of Northumberland County were likely nephews.

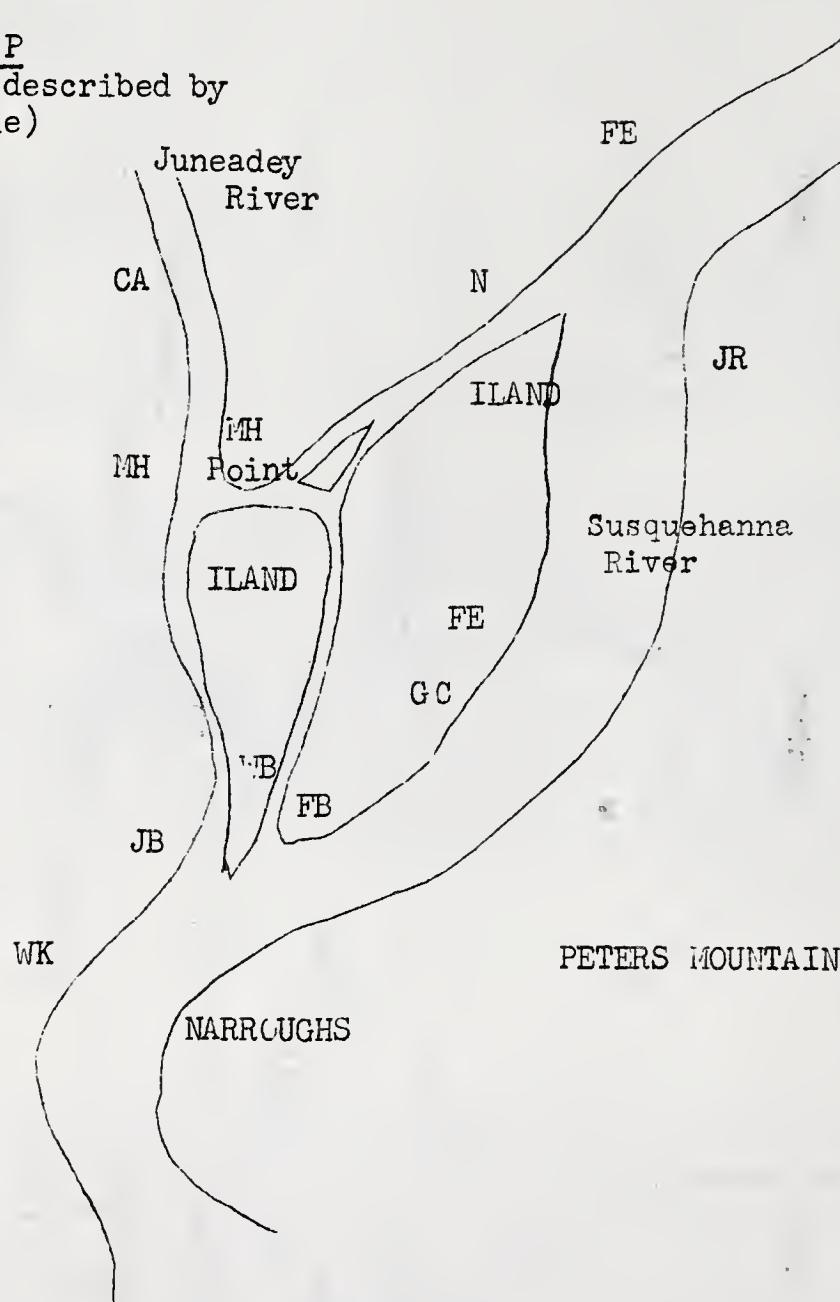

The fact that John Baskins migrated to South Carolina, and the Stephens just over the line into Georgia would seem to link this Baskins family with the William Baskin, who went from Pennsylvania to the Shenandoah Valley in Virginia (Augusta County) about 1740. About 1767 he migrated to Abbeville, South Carolina. His sons were: Hugh, Charles. (1741-1822), James, John, William, and Thomas. William and Mary Baskin are listed in Augusta County records as early as 1745 and as late as 1765. In 1750 William administered the estate of Robert Baskin. If Robert was the brother of this William, he may have been an uncle of the Pennsylvania brothers. Descendants of the South Carolina William still live around Abbeville. An Andrew Baskin lived in Virginia as contemporary of William later going to Kershaw Co., S.C.

Introduction

Since the publication of THE BASKINS-BASKIN FAMILY in February 1957, additional material has come in, enough to warrant this supplement. Walter L. Hutcheson, of Houston, Texas, has supplied many pages of notes which have enabled the identification of the William (Ga.), James Stuart (Ga.), Robert (Miss.) and John (Miss.) branches. Histories have been published during the year by:

Dwight L. Baskin, Waukegan, Ill. on the William Baskin Family
William was son of Hugh 1743-1797.

L. D. McPherson, Tampa, Fla. on the Baskin, Calhoun, Hamilton, Noble, Pickens, Thompson Families

Much help has been received from many state offices, especially the Departments of Archives and History of Alabama, Georgia, and Mississippi. It has been possible to identify the Robert-Thomas-John branch as coming to Penna. from Ireland after the Revolution. Also a great deal of background has been found in three books not used previously:

J. F. Meginness, Origin and History of the Maginness Family
(Williamspārt, Pa. 1891)

R. L. Meriwether, The Expansion of South Carolina
(Kingsport, Tenn. 1940)

H. M. Wilson, The Tinkling Spring, Headwater of Freedom
(Fishersville, Va. 1954)

Wilson contains a number of records of the Baskin family in Augusta Co., Virginia.

The distribution of the Baskins in the United States is well shown by the list which has been prepared of those who were in uniform 1861-1865. There is record of nearly one hundred.

Early Records

The earliest record of Baskins in America has been located by Dwight L. Baskin. He found the record of marriage of Elizabeth Baskin and George Luke in Elizabeth City County, Va. Jan. 31-1701. (The name Baskin also appears 1639 on Chicahominy River, Va.)

The next record is the East Nottingham Twp., Chester Co., Pa. tax list: William Baskin(s) 1732 1734 1735 1735/36
John Baskin(s) 1735 1735/36

The most complete early record of the Baskins is taken from the Orange Co., Va. Order Book 2, pg. 218:

At a Court held for Orange County on Thursday
the 24th day of July 1740.....

John Pickins made oath that he imported himself, Margret, Eleonor, Margret yo younger, Gabriel Pickons and Wm. Baskins from Ireland into Philadelphia and from thence into this Colony at his own charge and that this is yo first time of proving his and their right in order to obtain land which is ordered to be certified.

Augusta County was formed from Orange Co. in 1745. The Augusta Co. records show that John Pickens went to Va. from Paxton, Pa. More is written about John Pickens in a later section.

The Baskins born before 1765 were:

William Baskin Sr. (S. C.)

William Baskin Sr. came to America from Ireland about the fall of 1731, for his name first appears in Chester Co., Pa. records in 1732. By tradition he went to Paxton, Pa. about 1737. In July 1740 John Pickens appeared before the Orange Co., Va. court to say that he had imported himself and William Baskin with others from Ireland to Va. by way of Philadelphia. The statement was made to obtain land from Virginia. Augusta Co. was formed from Orange Co. in 1745. The Augusta Co. records show that John Pickens had gone to what is now Augusta Co. from Paxton, Pa. In Feb. 1740 he bought land in Va.

In Oct. 1746 William Baskin, John Pickens, James Lesslie and over thirty other families petitioned the governor and council of South Carolina to purchase from the Cherokee Indians the land around Ninety-Six and Long Cane and make it available for settlement. (See McRiutherford pg. 124) This was done in 1747, but Indian troubles discouraged settlement. William Baskin gave up the idea of going to S. C., for in May 1747 he purchased 212 acres from John Pickens in Augusta Co., Virginia.

Widow Baskin is first mentioned in Augusta Co. in Feb. 1749. Her land adjoined John Pickens. She is mentioned in 1754 and 1761 deeds. She is likely the widow of Robert. Letters to settle Robert's estate were granted to William Baskin in 1750. Was Widow Baskin a Pickens or a sister of John Pickens' wife?

John Pickens got restless and left Augusta Co. in 1754. From 1755 to about 1763 he was first on Catawba River, then Lynches River in north central S. C. By 1763 he had taken up land on Rocky River and Little River in District 96. This land became desirable with the end of the Indian wars about 1761. On June 7-1763 John, oldest son of William Baskin of Va. took up land on Long Cane, now waters of Little River. To this part of S.C. moved William Sr. and family.

November 1765 is the likely date for the migration of the Baskins from Augusta Co., Va. to what is now Abbeville Co., S.C. Moriwether says that the period from November to March was the most likely. The Virginia records show:

1765 May 14 Thomas witness to a deed
 May 22 William Sr sold land
 June 11 John got marriage license
 Sept. 23 William Sr sold rest of land
 Sept. 28 James got marriage license
 Oct. 2 Charles got marriage license

Tradition says "when they were ready to go Thomas died." But all, including the widow of Thomas likely left in November 1765. After waiting nineteen years William Baskin got to South Carolina.

William Baskin and family attended Augusta (Stono) Presbyterian Church in Virginia; Rocky River Presbyterian Church in S. C. Charles Baskin returned in a few years to Va., where he attended Tinkling Spring Presbyterian Church.

James T. Baskin, grandson of James H. Baskin, wrote in 1914 from Lowndesville, S. C.:

"William Baskin the head of the family came from Ireland to Juniata Valley, Penn. thence to near historic Stone Church, Va. and on to S. C." William Jr had "brothers Hugh, John, Thomas and Chas. with Patrick Calhoun's colony in Long Cane in Old Abbeville Dist." (Name of James omitted.) "William Baskin married Mary Stuart in Ireland. Our William Baskin (Jr) married Annie Reid Jan. 12-1769." "Wm. Baskin, Captain of Rangers in Revolutionary War lived and died in sight of where I now live. We have his commission sealed and signed by Gov. of S. C. Old and yellow framed." "James H. was the baby in Capt. Wm.'s set & the Baskins, Nobles, Pickens, &c. were all in Pat Calhoun's settlement, the first in Upper S. C. - Abbeville - then Dist. now county." "In my great-grandmother's Bible from which I sent record it is spelled Adam Foiles." Adam Filos married Mary Baskin, dau. Wm. Jr.

The Baskins, Pickens' and Calhouns all likely came from County Donegal, Ireland. The Calhouns went to Pa. 1733; to Va. 1745; to the Long Cane country of S.C. 1756. The father died in Pa. in 1741, the mother was killed by Cherokee Indians in S.C. in 1760. The Pickens' were in Pa. in the 1730s, Va. in the 1740s, S.C. in the 1750s.

Most of the Abbeville Baskins moved west after 1800. Hugh's sons went to Tenn., one later to Ark. James' sons went first to Ga., one later to Ala., another to Miss., John stayed in S.C. John's son went to Miss. William's sons went first to Ala., later to Miss., James H. stayed in S.C. Of William's five daughters: Rosannah and Mary died in Georgia, and Alabama, respectively. Elizabeth and Margaret died in Missouri. Ann died in Alabama, where her brothers had settled.

His Excellcy laid before the Board the following Petition he had received from Sundry Inhabitants of the back parts of Virginia, humbly showing that the Petitors have had a great expectation to hear by John Turk that the lands granted at 96 was purchased as Thomas Turk has informed them; that the Council did promise them that such a purchase should be obtained last March. That the petitioners trusting to his word have fully resolved to remove their families but as no certain account has been brought them of the purchase having been made, the same put a stop to their moving. Wherefore if the Governor will soon make a real purchase of that land laid a part for them and then communicate the same to Thomas Turk, that so they may be informed of the truth thereof, if they then can with safety, they will remove and come there; That the petitioners are informed that there are many loose persons who bear a bad character in some of those back parts and hope the Council will give them no manner of encouragement by letting them settle on any of that land, until they have time to hear of the purchase, and then to come and have their lot amongst us, they rely of the Clemency of the government in granting their request.

Baskin - Calhoun - Pickens

Present information shows that the:

Baskins came from County Donegal, Ireland about 1731 and settled in East Nottingham Twp., Chester Co., Pa. - going to Paxton Twp., then Lancaster, now Dauphin Co., Pa about 1737 - to Augusta Co., Va. about 1740 - to Abbeville Co., S. C. 1765.

Calhouns came from County Donegal, Ireland in 1733 and settled at Chestnut Level, Drumore Twp., Lancaster Co., Pa., where Patrick died in 1741. (The Chestnut Level Presbyterian Cemetery has a grave of James Calhoun 1696-1777.) The widow and children went to Augusta (now Wythe) Co., Va. about 1746 and to Abbeville Co., S. C. 1756.

Pickens came from Ireland about 1720 and settled in Bonsalem Twp., Bucks Co., Pa. where the father, likely William, died. Before 1739 they were in Paxton Twp., then Lancaster, now Dauphin Co., Pa. In the 1740s they were in Augusta Co., Va. - 1750s Waxhaw region, N. C. - 1760s Abbeville Co., S. C.

Apparently the Baskin and Pickens families first became acquainted in Paxton. There is no record of the Baskins and Calhouns becoming acquainted until after the Baskins went to South Carolina.

John Baskin(s)

The discovery of the marriage record of Elizabeth Baskin (likely widow of John of S. C.) to John Cunningham Feb. 22-1768 indicates that John Baskin died soon after writing his will Oct. 25-1767. It was probated Jan. 26-1769 at Charleston, which was many miles from the Long Cane section. The marriage of another Elizabeth Baskin in S. C. on Mar. 6-1768 to Israel Pickens is likely the marriage of Elizabeth, born Dec. 1745, daughter of William Baskin, and Israel Pickens, born Aug. 24-1744, son of John Pickens. Their fathers were long time friends.

The death of John Baskin, son of William of S. C., about Nov. 1-1767 means that the trip (see p. 31) made in the summer of 1768 by John Baskins and others in Ky. and Tenn. - which resulted in their capture by Indians and their removal to Detroit - was made by John Baskins, son of William Baskins of Pa. This John evidently went to South Carolina soon after his Virginia cousins. Perhaps this 1768 trip was the reason for his settling in Tennessee, where he was living in 1780. One can only wonder whether at Detroit he saw his younger brother, who had been captured by the Indians 1756.

John (S.C.) b c1731, to Paxton 1737, to Va. 1740, to S. C. 1763, returned to Va. to be married 1765, to S. C. with family 1765, d 1767 S. C.

John (Pa.) b c1745 Pa., 1756 father killed by Indians, before 1768 to S. C., trip from S. C. to Ky. and Tenn. 1768; 1774 in S. C., 1780 in Tennessee.

Andrew Baskin

The date of Andrew Baskin's death has not been ascertained. It was likely between Apr. 5-1790 when his stock mark was listed in the Lancaster Co., S.C. records and Dec. 10-1793 when his three sons are listed as guardians for his Stewart grandchildren. He likely died before Kershaw County was formed - 1791. The Lancaster County probate records have been destroyed.

There is no certain record of the name of his father. Andrew may have been a son of Robert Baskin, who died before February 1749 in Augusta Co., Va. Certainly Andrew was born in Ireland. His name first appears in Augusta records in 1752. The South Carolina land that he received in 1761 was surveyed in 1756 for another person. There is no record of a son or grandson named Robert. Andrew's oldest son was John. The family tradition that Andrew's father was John Baskin has not been verified.

It seems as if Andrew was related to the Pickens'. Perhaps his mother was a Pickens or a sister of one of the Pickens wives. In 1753 Andrew Baskin and John Pickens witnessed a deed together. In 1750 Andrew Pickens and in 1754 John Pickens went to the Waxhaw section of N.C.-S.C. Andrew Baskin followed soon after. A number of Pickens names are found in the Andrew Baskin branch:

Eleanor, Andrew, Joseph, Margaret, Samuel.

John Pickens

The names of John Pickens and William Baskin appear together a number of places. John Pickens was born in Ireland and came to America about 1720 with his father, likely William Pickens. The Pickens family first settled in Bensalem Twp., Bucks Co., Pa. - on the eastern edge of Philadelphia. About 1735 they moved to Paxton Twp., now Dauphin Co., Pa. It is likely here that John Pickens was married and became acquainted with William Baskin. Pickens was married and became acquainted with William Baskin.

The Baskins and Pickens' likely moved to Augusta Co., Va. in the winter of 1739-40. John Pickens bought 764 acres for £24 on Feb. 27-1740. The importation record of the Pickens' and Baskins shows that John imported his wife, Eleanor; mother, Margaret; younger brother, Gabriel; and sister, Margaret, as well as the Baskin family. The record should be read to mean that they all came to Virginia together from Penna. It is not likely that it means that they all came together from Ireland, rather that they were all natives of Ireland, but in July 1740 were declaring themselves inhabitants of Virginia in order to qualify for land. John Pickens sold 212 acres of his land in Va. to William Baskin in 1747. This was after their attempt in October 1746 to get land in South Carolina had failed.

John Pickens or his wife may have been related to the widow of Robert Baskin. She owned land adjoining John Pickens in 1749. In 1753 John Pickens and Andrew Baskin witnessed a deed together. About the end of 1754 it is likely that John Pickens went to the Waxhaw section of N. C. In 1756 he took up land on Lynches Creek in north central South Carolina. By 1765 he was likely in the Long Cane country - Abbeville County, S. C. William Baskin went from Va. to S. C. 1765-66. In 1768 William's daughter, Elizabeth, married John's son, Israel.

There is record in Va. of John Pickens as militia captain in 1742, mill owner 1744, magistrate 1745. He was a cattle man in Pa., Va., and S. C. He was mill owner and magistrate in S. C. Baptism records of five children are listed at Old Stone Church, Va.

John Pickens had several brothers: Israel, Andrew, Gabriel and likely Robert and William. Israel's name appears in Pa. about 1722; Augusta Co., Va. 1740; Cub Creek region of Va. 1748-49. He died about 1750, for his widow's name appears in N.C. 1754. Andrew's name appears in Pa. 1727; Paxton 1739; Augusta Co. 1745-50; what is now Mecklenburg Co., N.C. 1750 until his death about 1756. He was the father of General Andrew Pickens (1739-1817). Gabriel's name appears in Augusta Co., Va. 1740-64; he went to Abbeville about 1764, where he died a number of years later.

Robert who died in Anderson Co., S.C. 1793 and William who died in Montgomery Co., Va. 1783 may have been brothers of John Pickens. William was in Augusta Co., Va. for many years. It may have been his daughter, Margaret who married (?) James Baskin 1765.

The children of John and Eleanor Pickens are:

1. Elizabeth b 1741
2. William b 1742 likely died young
3. Israel b 1744 d 1829 S C m Elizabeth Baskin and three others
4. Eleanor b 1746 d 1803 S C m Joseph son of Andrew Pickens
5. Robert b 1749
6. John d 1796 S. C.
7. William Gabriel b 1760 and others went to Ky.

In 1811 Andrew Pickens, Jr. wrote that he had been born in Paxton Twp., Pa. in 1739. His father had come from Ireland. His grandfather left France as a boy soon after 1685.

Add to p. 20

i. Robert Baskin (Pa.)

Robert Baskin, a fuller, moved from Northumberland Co., Pa. in 1808 to Buffalo Twp., Perry Co., Pa. and purchased a 54 acre farm. His will was written Aug. 25-1813 with a codicil Aug. 25-1814. It was probated at Carlisle, Pa. June 1-1815. Besides mentioning his wife and children, he mentions his "dear brother Thomas" of Northumberland Co. and his brother-in-law, John McGinness. Robert Baskin and his wife are buried at the Hill Church, near New Buffalo. The stone of Robert reads "Died Apr. 14-1814 Aged 53". According to his will he died in 1815. His wife's stone reads Catharine Baskin "Died Sept 30-1824 Aged 74". She was hardly this old.

The Maginnes Family history says that John McGinnes(s) married c1793 Sarah Baskin b 1776. The 1850 Census shows that Sarah was born in Ireland. This means that Robert, Thomas, John (a third brother - see j) and Sarah came to Perry Co. from Ireland in the late 1780s. If John of Morcor b 1788 Pa. was a son of Thomas, then the Baskins came about 1786 or 1787. In 1793 in the militia from what is now Perry Co. are listed Thomas Baskin and John McGinness. Robert was likely married in Ireland, for his oldest son, John was born in 1785. The earliest record of Robert in Pa. is the birth of his son, Oliver in 1795. Since Robert, Thomas and John each named their oldest sons John, it is likely that their father was John Baskin. He probably died in Ireland. The McGinness family came to Pa. from Co. Down, Ireland in 1790. The name Oliver is found in this Baskin branch. Oliver is also found in Canada in 1846 and in Ireland in 1810.

It is likely that this Baskin branch was related to the Baskins who settled at the mouth of the Juniata. James Baskins who was born in Ireland c1720 was still living in 1787. The John of Ireland may have been his cousin. Else why did Robert and others come to the Baskinsville area from Ireland? It could hardly be a coincidence.

The most famous Baskins descendant is Alexander Hamilton Stephens, grandson of Alexander and Catherine Baskins Stephens. A full account of the Stephens connection is given in a 24-page booklet ALEXANDER STEPHENS 1727-1814 published by Raymond M. Bell and Robert G. Stephens in 1956. Since the publication of that booklet one additional fact has been discovered verifying the residence of Stephens 1770-78. John F. Meginniss in History of the West Branch Valley (1889) p. 401 lists the members and notes of a surveying party which laid out in 1775 or 1776 one of the first roads in Northumberland Co. - a road along the Susquehanna River from Lock Haven via Williamsport to Sunbury. The men in this party were:

Richard Mallon (Turbot), Amariah Sutton (now Williamsport), Alex'r Stephens, Marcus Hulings (Turbot). Stephens no doubt lived in Turbot, for his father-in-law had land there.

The writer found several James McGinniss before 1790. From the Maginniss family history he transcribed, thanks to Mrs. Vasco Laub, of Salt Lake City:

James McGinnis b 1739 came to America from County Down, Ireland in 1790, landing at Philadelphia. After a few months there he moved to Buffalo (then Greenwood) Twp., now Perry Co., Pa. Here his son, James Jr., bought a 322 acre farm (originally survey order granted 1773 to Job Hughes) for $322. James Sr was a farmer and a Presbyterian. In 1795 he was assessed for 100 acres, 2 horses, 2 cows and 1 still. In 1799 the names of James Jr and John appear; in 1808 George, Richard, John and James Jr's widow Mary are assessed. The name is spelled McGinnis, McGinniss, McGinnis, McGinniss.

James Sr d Jan. 7-1804; his wife Mary Cochran b 1743 d Aug. 25-1805. They and sons John and James are buried in the Hill Church cemetery, near New Buffalo. Here in the same lot lie the Robert Baskin family. The known children of James Sr and Mary are:

1. John McGinnis b 1772 m c1793 Sarah Baskin (see p. 89)
2. James McGinnis Jr b 1773 (see p. 50)
3. George McGinnis b 1775 d Aug. 6-1853 Shippensburg, Pa.
m Jul. 20-1805 Mary Linton d Oct. 31-1810 Perry Co

 - b. James Y. McGinnis - graduated Jefferson College 1835

The Last Will and Testament of Timothy Murphy, of the Township of Sandwich, in the Western District of the Province of Upper Canada, Yeoman.

I, Timothy Murphy, considering the uncertainty of this mortal life and being of sound mind and memory (blessed be to Almighty God for the same) do make and publish this my last will and testament in manner and form following: that is to say: I will that all my just debts and funeral expensos be paid as soon after my death as possible: After which it is my will that all my property both real and personal shall be inherited by my beloved wife Eleanor Murphy: And I give, bequeath and devise all my said real and personal property to her, the said Eleanor Murphy, and to her heirs and assigns forever: And I do hereby appoint my beloved wife Eleanor Murphy aforesaid sole Executrix of this my last will and testament, hereby revoking all former wills by me made.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and seal this ninth day of April, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and forty. (Died May 4-1840)

A footnote to THE BASKINS FAMILY, by Raymond M. Bell

The best known event in the Baskins Family was the Indian attack made on the little pioneer family on Duncan's Island on July 29, 1756. The Pa. Gazette tells how they murdered William Baskins and carried off his wife and children. This account was copied even in Va. papers. The family account says that the mother escaped and returned, that the oldest girl was released after a number of years and the youngest boy was later found in Canada as Timothy Murphy. (p 22)

There were five children: John 11, Moses 9, Margaret 7, Nancy 5, the boy 3. The mother was about 31. Early records show this:

George Croghan, Journal: Pa. Mag. 71, 352
Sept. 19, 1759 Pittsburgh:

Delawares delivered me "Mary Baskins and two white boys." Nov. 15, 1764 a prisoner surrendered by the Indians - Peggy Baskin "taken from the English Camp at the forks of the Muskingum to Fort Pitt". This is the first time that the first name of William Baskins' wife, Mary, appears.

In later records the marriage of Mary Findley to Francis Ellis is listed on June 20, 1765. In 1767 the wife of Francis Ellis is called the former Widow Baskins. In 1771 James Baskins, administrator of William Baskins, entered a judgment against Francis and Mary Ellis. (Since on June 27, 1765 John C. Bucher married Patrick Jack and Martha Findley there is a possibility that he made a mistake in listing the Ellis-Findley marriage. Perhaps it was Ellis-Baskins.) Perhaps Mary married after 1759 a Findley. Francis Ellis had a grandson, Robert Findley Ellis.

It looks now as if the Indians carried off Mary Baskins, the mother, and daughter Peggy and the youngest boy. Probably Peggy was taking care of the boy. The older boys and Nancy had been left at Paxton or Fort Hunter. What happened to them:

Mary Baskins was released at Fort Pitt in 1759 after 3 years of captivity - age about 34.

Peggy Baskins was released at the forks of the Muskingum in 1764 after 8 years of captivity - age 15. The boy was carried to Detroit where he was found years later.

It is worthy of note that the oldest son John Baskins went to S.C. and while on an expedition in the Ky-Tenn area was taken prisoner by the Kicapoos in Ill. in July 1768. They were taken to Detroit and later got to Fort Pitt. (p 31)

Who took care of the children 1756-59? How many years did Mary Baskins Ellis live? She died between 1771 and 1784. Her daughter Nancy lost her husband in the Revolution. This was indeed a pioneer family in colonial Pennsylvania.
